FOR BEAUTIFUL DIVORCEE, FRIEND OF THE GRACES, SEARCH NOW BEING MADE

MRS. E. H. GRACE GOES ON TRIAL ON NEXT TUESDAY

Change in Date Due to the Serious Condition of Husband.

ALL VISITS TO PRISONER STOPPED BY HER LAWYER

Detectives Who Put Her Under Arrest Are Refused Admission to Her Cell as a Result of Instructions Issued by John W. Moore---Statement Is Made by Bullard.

Mrs. Daisy Grace will not face trial today.

On next Tuesday, just two weeks after her husband was shot, and by a strange coincidence at 2:30 o'clock the exact time when the police broke down his bed room door and found him gasping for water after lying wounded more than eight hours, the beautiful wife of Eugene Hamilton Grace will be placed on the stand charged with attempting to murder him.

Grace Not Out of Danger.

The postponement from the original date, Wednesday at 3 o'clock, was caused by Mr. Grace's continued illness. He is "just about the same"—meaning in a very serious condition, and his physicians have not yet said that he is out of danger.

For this reason his wife is still held a prisoner in the women's ward at the Tower, as completely shut off from all intercourse and communication with the outside world, even her friends, as if an ogre had conveyed her to some South Sea island.

"I would so love to get out; I feel

MRS. GRACE'S BLIND SON VISITED BY THE OFFICERS IN SEARCH OF EVIDENCE

Former Admirer of Mrs. Grace Gives Sleuths Some Valuable Information—Wounded Man Said to Have Been Infatuated With the Philadelphia Woman Before He Met His Wife.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12.—(Special.)—Two Atlanta detectives, one representing the Grace family and the other the prosecuting attorney's office, arrived in Philadelphia today to probe that chapter of Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace's life when she lived here.

Working together, they visited Mrs. Grace's house at No. 4246 Spruce street, and they have tried to locate the intimates of Mrs. Grace's husband, whom she is accused of shooting. They have met many who knew the pair, but their particular quest was for the "chum" of Mrs. Grace, who was present when she was introduced to the young Georgian.

LOOKING FOR THE CHUM WHO INTRODUCED COUPLE

Grace was attentive to this young woman for several months before he met the woman he married. Mrs. Grace charges that some young woman, whom she does not name, shot her husband. The visiting detectives mean to investigate all of Mrs. Grace's friends before they leave Philadelphia and to prove that they could not have been implicated in the shooting.

Accompanied by headquarters staff men, the Atlanta sleuths visited the old haunts of Opie in this

FOR UNDERWOOD DEWEY DECLARES

Hero of Manila Bay Hopes Alabamian Will Be Named.

Dewey Is Veteran Democrat and Thinks Underwood Would Leady Party to Victory---Strong in Illinois, Says Congressman Evans.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 12.—(Special.)—Admiral George Dewey is the latest notable accession to the ranks of the supporters of Hon. Oscar W. Underwood.

It became known today that he declared recently in conversation with friends that he regarded Mr. Underwood as the most available candidate the democrats could name and predicted if nominated he would be elected.

Dewey Veteran Democrat.

Though Admiral Dewey is not a pronounced partisan, he has long been a member of the democratic party and before taking up his residence in Washington always voted in presidential elections for the democratic electors.

His support of democratic principles became known at the great national jubilation following his victory at Manila bay. Because of his official position as president of the general board of the navy department, he fights shy of political notoriety, but, of course, takes a keen interest in all national questions. Members of congress representing northern states continue to insist that the bloody shirt days are over and that all the national democracy wants is a man who can win.

Representative Lynden Evans, of the ninth Illinois district, today spoke in terms of highest admiration of Underwood.

Underwood Liked in Illinois.

"He is a big, broad national figure and the north will take him at his true measure and not be scared off because he is a southerner," said Mr. Evans.

"The sentiment in Chicago, where I live, was recently voiced by The Chicago Tribune in a clear and pointed editorial saying the southern men who simply represented cotton and corn fields and whose vision was circumscribed by them could not be regarded as available for national leadership, but that the sentiment which originally depended upon the waving of the bloody shirt could not be used to rally opposition to a man representing both manufacturing and agricultural interests and who had as cosmopolitan a constituency as any man in the north. Oscar W. Underwood, said The Tribune, is a man against whom no such sectional objection

THREE LITTLE BABIES IN ATLANTA WILL NOT HAVE A BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION FOR FOUR LONG YEARS

Very Appropriate That All Babies Born on Leap Year Day Are Girls.

ATLANTA LEAP YEAR BABIES.

Georgia Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Liddell, 5 Oglethorpe court.

Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Singleton, 120 Logan street.

Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Akerage, 466 West Hunter street.

There are three brand-new babies in Atlanta who will not have another birthday for four years. These Leap Year babies were born on the 29th of February, 1912. They all are healthy, pretty and normal, and have good dispositions. One weighs five pounds, another six and the other eight. Each is of the ordinary appearance of a child 8 or 9 days old, and all are girls. Funny, isn't it? But very characteristic of Leap Year.

The first baby born in Atlanta on the last day of February, 1912 was Georgia Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Liddell, of 5 Oglethorpe court. Just as the clock finished tolling the last stroke of midnight, she came into this world.

When a staff photographer and a reporter from The Constitution went to take her picture, and interview her, she seemed very much displeased at the intrusion, and sent up a wail, which, in the vernacular of babyhood, was a most vigorous command to get out.

Miss Georgia Louise kicked and cried, and cried and kicked. She just set her head against being photographed and interviewed. But she did not succeed; brawn ruled.

Louise Akerage is the largest one of the Leap Year trio. She weighs eight pounds, and has large blue eyes and light hair. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Akerage, of 466 West Hunter street, and when the photographer called at her home she didn't raise the slightest objection—in fact, she seemed proud of her good looks, and was glad to have them photographed at such an early age.

Dorothy Singleton was born just after midnight February 28. Blue-eyed, light-haired and weighing about five pounds, she is one of the prettiest babies Atlanta ever has seen. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Singleton, of 120 Logan street.

When she discovered the photographer's intentions, she modestly dissented. She was prevailed upon, and consented, even selecting her own pose which was looking out of the window, with a smile on her features and a "coo" on her tongue.

"CLEAN UP CITY AND STAY CLEAN," NOW THE SLOGAN

Enthusiastic Meeting Held in Interest of the Sanitation Laws.

CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION PLANNED AGAINST DIRT

Constitution Is Commended for Starting Agitation for a General Cleaning Up---"People Do Not Appreciate the Seriousness of Situation," Declares Chairman Haden.

That the people of Atlanta will be brought face to face with death this summer if there is not a general cleaning up and rigid enforcement of sanitation laws, and that the only way to secure to desired reforms is through a great educational campaign, was the concensus of opinion at a special committee meeting at the chamber of commerce last night.

Ministers, preachers, plumbers, lawyers and business men from all walks of life were present and the matter was earnestly discussed for more than three hours.

Plans were laid for a campaign which will reach every newspaper reader, every theatergoer, every church attendant and even those who are on the streets at night and who read electric signs.

"Clean Up" the Slogan.

"Clean up and stay clean" will be the slogan and it will be carried to everyone who resides in Atlanta.

The meeting went on record as commending The Atlanta Constitution in starting the agitation for a general cleaning up, and several speakers said that if the two afternoon papers would take up the matter with the same zeal and earnestness that had been manifested by The Constitution, that the success of the campaign would be assured.

"The trouble is that the people do not really appreciate the seriousness of the situation," declared Chairman Haden. "They do not know the conditions which exist here, and until they are told of some of the things which daily threaten their existence they are not going to do anything."

"The health of the white people in this city is largely dependent upon the colored washerwomen," declared a negro preacher who was present.

"If the people of Atlanta knew of the awful sanitary conditions which surround a large per cent of the colored homes of this city they would not wear their clothes when they come home this week. And the washerwomen are not to blame for they can only live in the homes which their white landlords provide for them."

Astounding Facts.

Many astounding facts were brought out at the meeting.

It was declared that there were more than 15,000 open closets in the city, many of them within a quarter of a mile of the city hall.

Not one colored home in 100 are furnished with even the most primitive bath tubs or other sanitary plumbing.

That the lodging houses of a certain class of foreigners are much worse than the negro houses.

That there is more deadly and in-

VISION OF HELL RELATED BY CONFESSED MURDERER BEFORE DEATH SENTENCE

Clarksville, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Just prior to the pronouncement of the death sentence on John Heygood for the murder of John Whittemore, at Baldwin, on January 14, two dramatic scenes were enacted in the court room. The defendant, in response to an inquiry of Judge J. B. Jones, made quite a lengthy statement, in which he said that, since his incarceration, he had seen a vision; that the deceased, John Whittemore, had come to him in his cell at the Habersham county jail and, with wings of fire and a tongue of flame, had told him to warn his people against picking the banjo, playing the fiddle and dancing on Sunday; that the spirit of Whittemore told him that he was in hell, and for him to try and avoid coming there, and to warn others against card-playing and the like.

The confessed murderer preluded his remarks with the statement that he was ready to die, if the court so wished, stating that he had prayed for himself and for all the folks of the deceased and for the witnesses who swore against him on the trial. He said some of the witnesses had sworn false-

PRIMARY, MAY 1, FOR PRESIDENT

A One Man Convention, May 29, With No Minority.

State Committee Fixes Date and Decides to Use the Registration of 1912---County Committees to Choose Delegates.

For the first time in the history of the state Georgia will vote on Wednesday May 1, expressing a choice as to a democratic candidate for president of the United States.

The registration of 1912 will be used as a basis for voting; the lists will be secured, completed and purged where possible, and where this cannot be done they will be procured unpurged direct from the tax collector.

The county executive committee of each county will meet at noon on May 2, and consolidate the vote for that county; the candidate receiving the plurality vote in the county will secure the county vote in the state convention.

The state executive committee will meet in Atlanta on May 10, and consolidate the vote from the entire state; the candidate receiving the plurality vote throughout the state will be declared Georgia's choice for democratic presidential candidate.

The county executive committees are required, not later than May 22, to select delegates from among the friends of the successful candidate in the state, to represent such county in the state convention to be held in Atlanta, May 29.

Thus the convention will be composed wholly of friends of the successful candidate in the presidential primary. There will be no representation for any of the minority candidates.

The state convention, on May 29, will select twenty-eight delegates and twenty-eight alternates to the national democratic convention, which meets in Baltimore on June 25.

The names of presidential candidates will appear on the ticket in the following order: Champ Clark, of Missouri; Judson Harmon, of Ohio; Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama; Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, and a blank space will be left for any other name which the voter may desire to insert.

A One-Man Convention.

It will be apparent that the call as issued by the state executive committee is almost precisely the same as that issued by the executive committee which was created by the famous Macon convention which first nominated Hoke Smith for governor. By giving all the delegates to the candidate securing the plurality vote of the state it provides, in effect, for a one-man convention.

That executive committee met during Governor Smith's first administration to order a primary for the succession. In the meantime Joe Brown had been fired by Governor Smith from the office of railroad commissioner, and had announced as a candidate for governor.

In order to eliminate any minority representation in the convention—to exclude, as the committee thought, every friend of Joe Brown—it then adopted practically the same resolutions as were adopted Tuesday for the presidential primary.

That was the first time this plan had

DEFEAT STARES PITNEY IN FACE

Taft's Nominee for Supreme Court Is Bitterly Fought.

Washington, March 12.—For more than three hours this evening the senate, in one of the stormiest and most protracted executive sessions in the recent history of congress, debated the confirmation of Chancellor Mahlon W. Pitney, of New Jersey, whom President Taft has nominated to succeed the late Justice Harlan on the supreme court bench, and then finally agreed to resume debate at noon tomorrow, and vote on the confirmation at 4 o'clock.

A rough canvass made by Chancellor Pitney's supporters after the fray tonight showed that the vote probably would be very close, and that there was some danger of his rejection.

All day long senators had prepared for the fight. When the discussion began, Senator Culberson, of Texas, led in the attack, and in his speech, and those of other senators, the New Jersey judge was assailed in bitter language, which extended even to an attack upon his general fitness for the bench. The fight was mainly based upon Chancellor Pitney's decision in the glass bottle blowers' case.

Effect of the Decision.

That decision restrained journeymen striking green glass bottle blowers from using coercion or persuasion to make loyal employees leave their work in breach of contract or the master and servant doctrine. The decision prohibited the strikers from personally molesting the strike-breakers in any way, and interdicted picketing or boycotting.

Senator Cummins, of Iowa, declared that the decision was oppressive to American labor.

Senator O'Gorman and Senator Reed both characterized the decision as showing a dangerous trend of thought. Senator Williams and Senator Shively joined the attack on Chancellor Pitney. Senator Bailey, Senator Clark, of Arkansas; Senator Root and Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, spoke in his favor.

Much stress was laid by the opposition to the dissenting opinion in the glass workers' case, which held the lower courts in error because they enjoined strikers from the peaceable persuasion of employees who were not under any contract to serve the company.

Woodrow Wilson and Pitney.

All the senators had copies of the decision and quoted freely from it.

Senator Reed send out of the senate chamber for legal volumes to fortify his arguments.

Regular republicans unsuccessfully fought to have the nomination pressed to a vote tonight and contended the protracted consideration and discussion was unnecessarily agitating labor interests.

During the debate indirect reference was made to the fact that Governor Woodrow Wilson had indorsed Chancellor Pitney. While the fight was raging a telegram that Samuel Kalisch, of the supreme court of New Jersey, a progressive, had addressed to Senator Martine indorsing Mr. Pitney, was circulated in the senate chamber.

SEMINARY GIRLS HAVE NEW HOME

Present Site Exchanged for Ladson Residence.

Washington seminary, one of the best-known institutions for girls in the state, will soon have a new home.

One of the most important real estate reals of recent months has just been completed by which L. D. Scott, principal of the school, has exchanged the present site at 36 East North avenue, for the residence of C. T. Ladson, formerly the home of General Clifford Anderson, at Brookwood. Mr. Scott paid a cash difference, which is said to have been a large sum.

The Ladson home is on the left-hand side going out Peachtree road. It is one of the most beautiful residences in the show section of Atlanta, marked by the tall white columns.

Of still greater importance, however, from the standpoint of a school for girls, is the fact that the grounds are spacious, which will give opportunity for recreation for the students.

Mr. Scott will at once begin improvements on the property, and intends to erect another building in addition to the house already on the site. The work is to be completed by the opening of the fall term.

The present Washington seminary site will be held by Mr. Ladson as an investment.

Mann Lost His Fight.

Washington, March 12.—The second filibuster within four days preceded the passage of the agricultural appropriation bill in the house tonight. The measure, which carried approximately $15,800,000, was delayed in its final legislative stage in the house by Minority Leader Mann. He led a bitter fight against it in an effort to obtain added appropriations for the national forests and to eliminate those voted for drainage purposes. In both of his contentions the republican leader lost. The bill now will go to the senate.

HE IS FOR SLATON

COLONEL W. S. WEST.
Prominent Valdostan who, instead of entering the gubernatorial race as he has been urged to do by his many friends, is furthering the cause of Hon. John M. Slaton.

SLATON IS NAMED BY COLONEL WEST

Valdostan Will Not Enter Coming Race for Governor.

Valdosta, Ga., March 12.—(Special.) Stating that he will not be in the race for governor and advocating the candidacy of Hon. John M. Slaton for that office, Colonel W. S. West, of Valdosta, has issued the following card:

"To thank many of my political friends who have solicited me to enter the race for governor in the coming primary to succeed Hon. Joseph M. Brown, the incumbent, and to convey to the press of the state my appreciation for the favorable mention of my name as a candidate for governor, is the object of this communication.

"In making up my mind not to enter the race at this time for governor, I am sending up no wail from south Georgia, for my contention has always been, and I trust will ever be, against sectionalism, and it is only when the southern part of the state shall advo-

ENRAGED HUSBAND KILLS 2 BROTHERS

Jim Campbell Slays Sam and Jim Gibbons at Wax, Ga.

Rome, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Enraged with jealosy, Jim Campbell shot and instantly killed two brothers, Sam and Jim Gibbons, and seriously wounded Susie Gibbs at the woman's home near Wax, in this county, yesterda yafternoon, and declared that if his gun was not empty he would kill everyone in the room.

The man who did the shooting remained in the settlement and told several people boastingly what he had done. He escaped early this morning and has not yet been captured.

It is alleged that Sam Gibbons, who came to this county several months ago from Florida, had carried Campbell's wife to Atlanta and that Campbell followed them there and regained possession of his wife. Gibbons escaped, but shortly afterwards returned to the Wax community and boasted that he was going to take the woman away again, saying that Campbell "was a coward and wouldn't do anything."

When Campbell learned that Gibbons had been intruding in his home again and was then at the home of Susie Gibbs, he secured his gun and went to the Gibbs woman's home. At first sight of Gibbons and his brother he began firing, killing Jim and then turning on Sam. When the latter crawled under the bed, begging Campbell not to kill him he was not heeded.

After Campbell had killed both the brothers he turned to the Gibbs woman and fired at her, shooting off two of her fingers, the ball glancing and taking effect in her arm. At this point the man's gun was emptied.

There were two other women in the room and he declared that he would kill everybody in sight if he had enough cartridges.

DESERTING HUSBANDS WORRY CHARITIES

Seven hundred and sixty-nine cases were handled during February, 1912, by the Associated Charities, according to the report of Secretary Joe Logan, submitted last night bebore the regular meeting of the board of directors, held in the chamber of commerce headquarters.

Secretary Logan stated to the board of directors that thirty-seven per cent of all children under the care of charitable institutions in the city were of families deserted by the father, and that the situation was one needing immediate remedy, which would be effected by the county bringing the deserters back at its own expense.

CAPITOL VIEW MAY BE ANNEXED

Council Will Be Asked to Take Action.

The suburb to the south of the city known as Capitol View was the only section voted to be annexed by the special committee of council last night and that report will probably be fought in council as Alderman VanDyke, a member of the committee, gave notice that he would make a minority report. He was opposed to the annexation of any new territory at this time.

All the other sections which it had been proposed to annex were voted down. These included land lots adjoining Druid Hills, Ormewood, a section adjoining Battle Hill, the stockyard section, Lakewood Heights, the Cascade section and a section taking in the Atlanta steel works.

A number of citizens appeared before the committee, all of whom were against any annexation except a committee from Capitol View.

Took a Vote in Caucus.

The committee held a caucus and voted against all the annexation propositions except Capitol View. The committee then reconvened in public and announced what had been done. Another hearing was given on Capitol View and the only person who spoke against annexation was John Shannon.

When the final vote was taken, Alderman VanDyke was the only member of the committee who voted against annexing Capitol View. He said:

"I do not believe the people of this city want any more territory annexed and we are here to represent the people of Atlanta and not the people of Capitol View or any other outside section. I know it to be a fact that we cannot now look after the nine thousand surface closets which we have; we cannot take care of our streets, which are muddy and unpaved; we cannot keep the back yards clean when we have only fifteen inspectors; we cannot school all of our children; we cannot give proper police and fire protection to the territory and people we already have. Then, I ask you, gentlemen, who on earth do we want to take in more territory? Is it population you are after? Well the next census is nine years off. Let's wait a little while until we can begin charity at home before we reach out to help others."

May Be Fought in Council.

It is believed that several members of council will take the same view as Alderman VanDyke and the proposed annexation will probably cause a very vigorous fight on the floor of council next Monday.

Capitol View is that portion of land lot 106 which is not already in the city and all of land lot 105. It includes about 150 acres and a population of about 1,000.

Those who voted for annexation were Aldermen Warren and Ragsdale and Councilmen Sisson, Wood, Thomson, Abernathy, Hatcher and Chambers.

If council votes to annex Capitol View a petition will have to be presented to the state legislature for a charter amendment.

sanitary plumbing in Atlanta than two special plumbing inspectors could discover in twelve months' time.

Plans for Campaign.

It was agreed last night that before results could be obtained that it would be necessary to arouse public sentiment in the matter, and with this in view a campaign of education will be started in the next few days.

The committee will ask for the cooperation of the afternoon daily papers with The Constitution, and will request all of the newspapers to publish photographs together with statements of local conditions which will be furnished by the committee.

An effort will be made to secure special moving picture films on appropriate subjects and these will be shown daily in the five and ten-cent theaters patronized by both white and colored people. Efforts will also be made to have the moving picture theaters display daily fifty word "sermons" on health and sanitation, and give hints on how to get and keep clean.

A large electric sign will probably be secured at some prominent place in the business district of the city and each night for a certain period, messages on sanitation and reminders of the campaign will be flashed before the people.

Preachers to Help.

Dr. C. B. Wilmer promised that he would take the matter up at the next meeting of the Atlanta pastors' association, and will request that every preached in the city devote a few minutes' time to discussing the public health at the Sunday or week-day services.

Colored preachers who were present promised to do the same in their associations.

The board of education will be requested to have the news of the campaign preached to both white and colored students in every public school room of Atlanta for a stated period.

A meeting of all the janitors for all the schools, churches and public buildings will be called to hear lectures on the subject.

The active co-operation of the social service committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement will be enlisted.

All of the civic clubs, the different organizations of women and the Associated Charities and other associations will be asked to give their assistance.

Stereopticon Lectures.

A stereopticon outfit will be secured and illustrated lectures will be given in the colored churches, in the school houses and in other public buildings for both white and colored throughout the suburban sections of the city. Practical lessons on how to keep clean and the result of insanitary conditions will be shown. When the weather is a little warmer these stereopticon lectures will also be given in the open air, on the street corners, etc.

What Will Be Taught.

The object of the educational campaign is not only to arouse public sentiment and to secure speedy relief by the city authorities, but also to educate the people as to hundreds of practical things that they can do in and around their homes. Some of the matters which will be treated upon are as follows:

The extermination of the house fly.

General cleaning of back yards and premises.

More general use of the door and window screen.

Providing and using garbage cans with closed tops.

Safeguarding the handling of street sweepings.

The extension and enlargement of the sewerage system.

The abolishment of 15,000 surface closets in Atlanta.

The condemnation of several hundred negro shanties.

The establishment of free bathhouses for negroes.

Instructing janitors the proper method for cleaning churches and public schools.

Will Name Committees.

Chairman Haden was authorized to name special committees in order to get the work started, and he will probably do this today.

It is probable that another meeting of the committee which met last night will be called in the next few days, and at this time further details for the campaign will be completed and at the same time arrangements will be made for a big public mass meeting at which the needs of the campaign may be discussed and other matters taken up.

The matter is now in the hands of Chairman Haden and his committee, and it is promised that the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

PRETTY DIVORCEE IN GRACE CASE

city and also interviewed a former admirer of Mrs. Grace, who is at the present time employed in a clerical capacity of one of the city's principal hotels. This man formerly was known as a race track plunger before the game was killed in the east and after that he drifted away from the city when Mrs. Opie decided to wed Grace.

This man was inclined to be reticent at first but when assured that they only wanted his knowledge or Mrs. Grace's companions here it is said that he gave some information that may lead to the disclosure of the "mysterious woman" whom the accused wife seeks to drag into the case.

GRACE WAS VERY ATTENTIVE TO BEAUTIFUL DIVORCEE

From good sources it is learned that while in this city Grace was very attentive to a beautiful divorcee and that he was an ardent suitor for her hand. This woman he suddenly threw over, it is said, when Opie died, and the detectives have learned that this person has not been out of the city in six months, so that it would have been practically impossible for her to have had any hand in the assault upon the southerner.

The detectives also visited the institution where young Opie is being educated, but the boy expressed much indignation when he learned that they were in search of evidence that would tend to incriminate his mother. There has been much learned which the southern officials will not divulge, but from their statement that they will still remain here another day or so it is evident that the clues upon which they have been working have been productive.

MRS. GRACE'S TRIAL ON NEXT TUESDAY

dreadful at being here," Mrs. Grace bemoans her isolation.

Except for a few magazines she is alone. Even the visits of her fellow prisoners, who went to her quarters only on business, have been stopped by the order of her attorney, John W. Moore, and articles which she receives are poked through the grating to her as if she were being given "solitary"—the cruelest punishment known to criminals, and what they most dread.

Since her entrance into the women's ward Mrs. Grace has not left it for an instant. All the other prisoners have the privilege of exercise around the rotunda at certain hours, a privilege that is the brightest spot of the long, weary days, comparable in a dull drab fashion to the promenade of a city dweller through the avenues in the cool of evening.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Grace had hoped to attend the service held in the rotunda of the jail by a visiting minister, where the Bible is read, a short talk made and there is music and singing to the accompaniment of the little prison organ.

"I want to attend service," said Mrs. Grace, of old Pennsylvania Dutch descent, trained up to attend "meeting" every Sunday as regularly as they arose in the morning.

Even this was denied her. One of her attorneys, J. A. Branch, was with her during the service in a long consultation, and she missed the opportunity for which she longed.

No one perhaps will ever know what the confinement and solitude means to the prisoner.

It is probably beyond her means of expressing.

No Attempt at Bail.

It is understood that nothing has been done by her lawyers toward securing her release, although Grace has been so far improved as to stand a tedious transfer for the purpose of having an x-ray photograph made of his wound.

So far as can be learned, no move is contemplated whereby Mrs. Grace might gain the liberty which she yearns for, and which it might naturally be expected would be granted under the circumstances, inasmuch as she is able to make one of the heaviest bonds which might be required.

The witnesses in the trial which will be held in Judge Ridlel's court will include nearly a dozen people, notably J. C. and Martha Ruffin, the Graces' negro servants, who are still locked up as material witnesses; Mrs. S. L. Hill and Lewis Hill, Grace's mother and half brother; Grace's physicians, and a number of others whose names are withheld.

"We are only going to take up the facts which everybody knows," said Chief Lanford last night. "There are some witnesses which we have whose names we won't disclose, for you know they sometimes have a habit of disappearing. They have not been subpoenaed."

Officers Denied Admission.

Detectives Bullard and Doyal called at the Tower Tuesday morning to see the prisoner. Their names were taken to her with the understanding that she could not be seen unless she so desired it. She refused to see the officers.

"I have been grossly misquoted," said Detective Bullard last night. "I said I only wanted to talk to Mrs. Grace about 15 minutes, and when she refused I said that John Moore must have been afraid that she would say something he did not want her to say.

"Other statements about me are untrue. We went for the purpose of telling her that we were at her service as much as at the city's, that we wished to clear her if she is innocent, and that if there was any stone which we had left unturned in trying to find out the truth of the shooting, that we would obey her wishes in that respect."

CHANCELLOR KIRKLAND ADDRESSES CONVENTION

St. Louis, March 12.—The ninth general convention of the Religious Education association began here tonight and will continue until Thursday.

Dr. James H. Kirkland, chancellor of Vanderbilt university, and president of the Religious Education association, devoted the greater part of his annual address to the convention "training religious leaders." Other speakers were I. Lowenthal, rabbi of the Jewish temple, Nashville, Tenn., and Thomas F. Gailer, Episcopal bishop of Tennessee, and chancellor of the University of the South.

In the department of churches and pastors President J. L. Snyder, of the Michigan State Agricultural college, Lansing, Mich., advised that the minister who takes charge of a country church should be a leader among boys and young men and be able to take part in their games and sports.

Before the department of teachers of the Bible in colleges, Rev. J. Percival Huget, of Detroit, made the principal address on the "organization of college courses in religious education." He urged that colleges prepare teachers for education and religious training at the same time.

FOR UNDERWOOD DEWEY DECLARES

could be urged. In this view I heartily concur and I believe the democrats of Illinois will agree with me."

Wilson Wave Receding.

Virginia will send an uninstructed delegation to Baltimore, and if the Underwood boom continues to grow and the Wilson wave to recede at the same rate they have moved recently friends of Mr. Underwood are confident he will be the choice of the convention.

Representative E. E. Holland, of the Suffolk district, expressed his cordial regard for Mr. Underwood today. He thought the time was ripe to name a southern man and said that the old soldier vote which would be lined up against Underwood for his vote on the Sherwood pension bill would be against the democratic nominee in any event.

Underwood's Friends After New York.

"As goes New York, so goes the democratic nomination."

Recalling that axiom in party officers, the managers of Mr. Underwood's campaign are laying siege to the Empire State. If the democratic leader can gain the support of New York they feel he will be the party's nominee.

Senator Bankhead apprehends that some favorite son, either Mayor Gaynor or Governor Dix, will be given a complimentary vote by New York, and will be satisfied to get the vote of the delegation for Mr. Underwood as second choice. Of course, with so many candidates in the field, if none gets a majority on the first ballot, the second choice of the most delegates will be the first choice of the convention.

"The New York delegation will be exceedingly friendly to Mr. Underwood, and at the first opportunity will give their vote to him," said Senator Bankhead tonight, with much confidence. "We will also have a number of delegates from New England who will be for Underwood on the first ballot."

150 Delegates Certain for Underwood.

Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Mississippi are now being claimed as certain for Underwood, and from present indications he will go into the convention with 150 delegates who will stick to him through thick and thin. Counting upon this as a nucleus, his campaign managers are giving their undivided attention to New York and leaving to local organizations the work in other states. Once the vote of New York goes for Underwood, the solid south will line up behind him.

Representative Ayers, of New York, says Underwood has a number of strong friends in the state, and that if nominated there is no doubt but that he will win the state's electoral vote.

cate the claims of a candidate for governor who is in every respect as well equipped—as conservative, as honest in purpose, as broadminded, efficient and fair—that I shall espouse his cause.

Entitled to Honor.

"Fulfilling all these requirements, then, I say, south Georgia, nearing the century mark since she has enjoyed the distinction, and, too, upon the eve of the realization of the marvelous possibilities in the material growth and development of this section, is once more entitled to the honor.

"I appreciate the confidence of the people of Lowndes county and the sixth senatorial district for the long service in the two branches of the legislature, and the people of Georgia for my election as president of the state senate. I gave the same attention to the discharge of the duties in these places of trust as I have to my personal affairs in private life, for I have ever regarded duty as one of the greatest virtues, whether in the private walks of life or struggling with the difficult problems arising for solution in the political arena, and while I would like to be governor, knowing the trials that lie in the path of him who seeks the honor and the uncertainty attending the result, I have decided not to enter the contest.

"It is well known that Hon. John M. Slaton will be in the race for governor. In addition to serving some years in the house with him, he was speaker of the house of representatives while I was president of the senate in the years 1905-6. It was during this term of the legislature that eight new counties were created, and his treatment of south Georgia in appointing the committee on new counties was fair and impartial, and this is evidenced by the fact that seven of these eight new counties are in south Georgia.

Record of Slaton.

"As a member of the house, as speaker of the house of representatives, as president of the state senate, and—when there was an interregnum in the office of chief executive of the state caused by the election of Governor Smith to the United States senate—as acting governor, he has always acquitted himself in such a manner as to command the respect and merit the approval of the public.

"With his past record, it is reasonable to suppose, if he is elevated by the electorate of Georgia to the office of chief executive, his administration of the state's affairs will be such as to hold the confidence of his friends.

W. S. WEST."

WIRE TO THE CLOCK CUT BEFORE MIDNIGHT

Frankfort, Ky., March 12.—The Kentucky legislature put itself on record as a progressive body by abandoning the antequated expedient of turning back the hands of the clock to extend the last legislative day of the session, when the sergeant-at-arms of the senate cut the wire leading to the self-regulating clock at one minute before midnight. At that time both houses were busily engaged with belated measures with the prospect of remaining in session several hours.

The most conspicuous acts of this legislature were the election of Congressman Ollie James to the United States senate to succeed Senator Thomas H. Paynter in 1913 and the adoption of the compulsory primary system.

MEXICAN REBELS NEAR MEXICO CITY

Band of Zapata's Followers in 30 Miles of Capital.

Rebels Raid a Town and Force Merchants to Contribute—Suspension of Guarantees Refused by Congress Commission.

Mexico City, March 12.—The Zapatista campaign was extended to within thirty miles of Mexico City today when a band of 300 rebels, under Alfonso Miranda, raided the town of Salazar, forced two merchants to "contribute" $500 in gold to the revolutionary cause and made away with a quantity of arms and some horses. Another party is reported to be marauding in the same locality.

Miranda, with his father and brother and a considerable following, were reported encamped in the mountains near Mexico City a week ago. Today was their first manifestation of revolutionary activity. The father and two sons were active in the Madero revolt a year ago.

Today the permanent commission of congress refused to declare the "suspension of guarantees" throughout the republic as requested by Minister of Foreign Relations Manuel Calero. The suspension of guarantees would practically put the country under martial law. The request of Minister Calero will therefore go over to the regular session of congress in April.

ARMED MEXIC REBELS CROSS INTO THE UNITED STAES

El Paso, Texas, March 12.—Armed Mexican rebels crossed the river into El Paso county yesterday afternoon and took five horses and a saddle from residents of the United States near Fabens, Texas. E. L. Deshazo, who was in Fabens yesterday, brought the report of the raid today.

BOTTLED UP FOR A MONTH, AMERICANS ARE RELIEVED

Mexico City, March 12.—Americans who had been bottled up in the town of Valardena for a month reached Durango today, according to a dispatch from that city. With few exceptions, the refugees are well. The dispatch gave no further details.

The Durango telegram also told of thedoings of Ramon Florduy, a rebel leader, who has been co-operating with the insurrectos of the LaGuna district. Florduy, the telegram says, has occupied the town of Sambrerete, in western Zacatecas, has declared it the provisional capital of the state, and has proclaimed himself provisional governor.

MORE UNITED STATES TROOPS ARE SENT TO THE RIO GRANDE

San Antonio, Texas, March 12.—The remainder of troop E, Third cavalry, part of which left for Eagle Pass yesterday by train, departed today for the border town overland. Part of a pack train accompanied the troops, carrying forage and supplies. Troops G and H, of the Third, left today by rail for Marfa and Anderson. They will establish headquarters at these places and patrol the border.

AGENTS SENT TO WASHINGTON BY MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS

Chihuahua, Mexico, March 12.—After the manner of Madero and his followers, Pascual Orozco and the revolutionists he lead are to have their representative at Washington. Manuel Lujan and Juan Prieto Quemper, well-known local attorneys, left today for Washington to place before President Taft the merits of the revolutionary cause.

The commission was named by Orozco and his counselors in the belief that their belligerency might be recognized.

TAFT TO SEE CULBERSON ABOUT MEXICAN SITUATION

Washington, March 12.—President Taft will have a conference tomorrow upon the situation in Mexico with Secretary Stimson, Senator Culberson and the Texas congressional delegation. It is understood that the president and the secretary of war wish to impress upon the Texas authorities that the neutrality laws must be strictly enforced, and that no aid to the Mexican insurrectos must go from Texas.

It was intimated today that, after the conference, President Taft might issue a statement defining the attitude of the United States toward Mexico in the present crisis. It is understood that such a statement, if one is issued, would contain assurances to Mexicans that the United States now has no intention of intervening. The president told his callers today that he would not consider intervention unless congress authorized him to take such a step.

Dispatches to the state department today from Ambassador Wilson, at Mexico City, were partly reassuring and partly disconcerting. Mr. Wilson said that the recent proclamation of President Taft was now apparently understood in Mexico, and any fear that it meant the recognition of the belligerents had died out. Mr. Taft's attitude, the ambassador said, was now understood, and has had a beneficial effect.

The most alarming report made by Mr. Wilson was to the effect that many Americans in the western part of Mexico were so destitute that they needed help to get out of the country. Consideration probably will be given by the state department to the best means to get them out by way of western ports.

HEAD-ON IN FOG, STEAMERS MEET

New York, March 12.—In a collision almost head-on in the fog at the entrance to the lower bay today the coastwise steamer City of Savannah, of the Ocean Steamship Company, and the Navajo, of the Clyde Line, were seriously damaged. The Savannah's steel bow was ripped open for 25 feet along the starboard side, and the Navajo's bow was crumpled up for more than ten feet.

Several passengers on the Savannah were thrown violently against the rails, but no one was seriously injured.

The accident occurred about four miles off the Ambrose channel lightship, as the Savannah was outward bound and the Navajo was arriving. It was reported to the city by wireless and tugs rushed to the scene. Although each steamer was able to proceed under its own steam, the tugs stood by until they reached their piers.

Captain L. T. Dreyer, of the Savannah, told reporters that he was steaming his vessel out cautiously with fog whistles blowing when suddenly through the mist a steamer was seen almost upon him. He signalled that he would keep his course, but he declared that the other vessel did not heed the signal. By a quick turn of the helm to port, Captain Dreyer avoided a blow amidships, but the vessels met almost bow-on.

The damage to the Savannah liner is believed to be all above the water, but the Navajo had listed badly by the time she had reached her pier and it is believed she took water. Captain Packer, of the Navajo, would neither allow anyone aboard his ship tonight nor talk of the accident.

FAST TRAIN WRECKED ON THE BIG FOUR ROAD

Terre Haute, March 12.—Eastbound passenger train No. 20, on the Big Four, known as the "Twenty-four-hour St. Louis to New York train," crashed head-on into a freight train on the main track within 200 yards of the station at Greencastle at 9:45 o'clock tonight. Freight Engineer J. C. Millam, of Indianapolis, was killed.

The passenger train, which is considered one of the New York Central's best between St. Louis and New York, was running at a speed estimated at 45 miles an hour. The train does not stop at Greencastle; although speed is slackened while passing through the town.

The road is double-tracked between here and Indianapolis, and railroad officials cannot account for a westbound freight train being in the passenger train's way.

A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal. If a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed.

Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance.

The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a liquid laxative-tonic, mild, and never gripes, is effective on robust people and can be given with safety to an infant. Children like it because of these gentle qualities and because it is pleasant to the taste.

It is the best all-around remedy you can have in the house for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, and many people like Mrs. Lydia E. Thomas, Calhoun, Ga., and D. H. Harburg, 251 W. Wade St., Charlotte, N. C., say they would as soon be without the necessities as without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Miss Jackson Is Here Demonstrating Bon Ton and Royal Worcester Corsets

The announcement that Miss Jackson is again with us will be welcome news to many women of Atlanta.

Women who have been fitted by her before will doubtless want to avail themselves of the opportunity again—especially this season, since the style changes have been so marked.

The makers of Bon Ton and Royal Worcester Corsets were among the first in America to heed Paris' decree that corsets should follow the natural outlines of the body this spring.

Miss Jackson will show you how this is possible, graceful and comfortable with the new Bon Ton and Royal Worcester Corsets. And it is more important than ever that you should have the new dresses and suits fitted over the new model corset.

RAY PAPERS HELD TO PROTECT TAFT

Responsibility for Keeping Papers Assumed by Edwards.

The General Says He Was Afraid Papers Would Be Used Against Taft---Edwards Says That He and Other Officers Disliked Ray.

Washington, March 12.—Entire responsibility for the delay in transmitting to congress some of the papers in the Major Ray case was assumed by Brigadier General Edwards, chief of the insular bureau, in his testimony today before the house committee. He stated it as his belief that former Chief of Staff J. Franklin Ball had retained the papers from the adjutant general's office and transmitted them to him (Edwards) when he left the war department, because he thought the adjutant general's office was "hostile to the president of the United States," and believed the office would use them "against the president."

Hanna and Fairbanks Backed Ray.

General Edwards said Ray was appointed to the army through the influence of the late Mark Hanna and former Vice President Fairbanks.

"I first met Ray in the Philippines, when I went there with Mr. Taft as secretary of war, in 1907. At that time," said General Edwards, "Mr. Taft was being talked of for president. Various friends of his in the Philippines suggested that Ray, formerly in labor organizations, would be a good man to have at Chicago to interpret Judge Taft's labor decisions. I cabled Colonel McIntyre, in Washington, to have Ray returned to the United States. The reply was such that I dropped Ray at once."

General Edwards said officers of the army did not like Ray, and the latter had complained he was not getting a "square deal." General Edwards said he formed a dislike for Ray. His manners were objectionable.

Spoke of Ray to Taft.

General Edwards said he spoke of Ray to Mr. Taft on the way home over the trans-Siberian railway.

He was asked if Mr. Taft was a candidate at that time.

"He was not an avowed candidate," said the general. "He was reluctant to assume the role of a candidate. He felt that he was not qualified. He would have preferred to go on the bench, I know," said the general. "He used to smile and wave it aside when it was suggested to him."

Subsequent details of Major Ray and his leaves of absence and extensions were arranged by Secretary of War Luke Wright and President Roosevelt, General Edwards said, and Mr. West knew nothing about them.

GEORGIA BLACKS IN SUPREME COURT

Hamilton Douglas and John P. Ross Contest Negroes' Right to Pythian Name.

Washington, March 12.—Why negroes in Georgia should be prevented from using the name Knights of Pythias as a part of a title to some of their organizations in that state was the basis for a printed argument submitted today to the supreme court of the United States on behalf of the white Knights of Pythias of that state. The court is to pass on the negroes' right shortly.

It is argued that the white order has exclusive right to the name Knights of Pythias and that the negroes should use another name.

"They may call themselves 'Knights of Washington' (after Booker)," suggested John P. Ross, of Macon, and Hamilton Douglas, of Atlanta, attorneys in the case, "or 'Knights of Jonathan' or 'Knights of Ham' and obtain their charter and continue in their good work."

CRIED IN CHORUS, "NOT GUILTY!"

Forty-Six Alleged Dynamiters Arraigned in U. S. Court.

Demurrers Entered by Attorneys for the Labor Men Were Overruled---The Trial of the Accused Men Is Set for October 1.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 12.—"Not guilty" was the plea of forty-six men arraigned this afternoon in federal court here on indictments charging complicity in the alleged conspiracy unlawfully to transport dynamite from state to state. Judge A. B. Anderson overruled all demurrers of the defense, but granted thirty days for the filing of exceptions to his ruling.

A motion to consolidate the cases, made by United States District Attorney Charles Miller was sustained, but the court consented to hear attorneys for the defense tomorrow if they decide to petition for separate trials. The court instructed that the defendants appear when presentation in the matter is made. The trial was set for October 1.

When Judge Anderson announced he would overrule the demurrers to the thirty-four indictments, he turned to the defendants, for whom seats had been arranged in tiers, and said: "Gentlemen do you know the nature of the charges against you?"

"We Do" in Heavy Chorus.

"We do," came in a heavy chorus.

Then one by one the indicted men, present or former labor union officials from many sections of the country, and headed by Frank M. Ryan, president of the Bride and Structural Iron Workers, arose as their names were called by the clerk, and responded: "Not Guilty."

Attacks from many angles were made upon the indictments charging the defendants with aiding and abetting Ortie E. McManigal and John J. and James B. McNamara in the transportation of dynamite on passenger trains, with being principals with McManigal and the McNamaras in the illegal acts and with having conspired to violate the statutes prohibiting such transportation.

That the statute of limitations had run against the offense of conspiracy alleged and that the indictments did not aver violation of law because it was not set out the defendants had mislabeled packages of explosives they were alleged to have carried on passenger trains were the two principal contentions of counsel for the defense. Elijah Zoline and Patrick O'Donnell, of Chicago; Walter Ball, of Muncie, Ind., and W. N. Harding, of this city.

The Judge Couldn't See It.

"I am unable to see the merit in these interpretations," said Judge Anderson, in overruling the motions to quansh. "As I read the acts of 1866, 1908 and 1909 on the subjects it is plain to me that it is unlawful for a man to carry explosives on any vehicle, train or vessel of a common carrier that transports passengers for hire."

In refusing to accept the theory of the defense that the statute of limitations had run in the case, the court approved the argument of District Attorney Miller that the conspiracy, as alleged, was a continuing one, and that limit of time for prosecution had not expired, for the reason that though the conspiracy is alleged to have begun in 1906, the acts are alleged to have been committed in furtherance as late as April, 1911.

Motions to quash were not made as to the indictments against eight of the fifty-four defendants that did not appear in court. Among them were the McNamara brothers, in San Quentin prison, California, and Ortie McManigal, in jail at Los Angeles.

Trial Next October.

District Attorney Miller attempted insuccessfully to have the trial set for May.

In granting delay till October 1, Judge Anderson took occasion to comment on the political situation, "just because," he said to the packed crowd in the court room, "I probably never again will have so large an audience."

"Men indicted must have every opportunity to prove themselves innocent if they can" he went on. "This is a guaranty of liberty. Here I want to say that if certain political philosophers of our time succeeded in their course there would not be any guaranty of liberty. When the courts are paralzed liberty is gone.

In consideration of the fact that the defendants' residences were widely scattered over the country, the court added, he would grant until October for them to consult their attorneys and prepare their defense.

CITY WARD LINES TO BE DISCUSSED

Special Council Committee Calls Public Hearing March 28.

There will be a public hearing on Thursday, March 28, at 8 o'clock in regard to the proposed changing of the ward lines so as to give a more equal division of the city, both as to area and population.

The special committee of council appointed to make a report on the redistricting of the city into wards met last night and after a short discussion decided upon a public hearing, so all citizens interested can be heard from.

Councilman Hatcher, chairman, stated that he had long believed it was unjust to let a small ward have as many representatives in council as a large ward. He said that the Ninth ward, with only 6,500 people, had as much voice in the city government as the Second and Third, which had a population of over 25,000.

Alderman Ragsdale, of the Ninth ward, and Councilman Thomson, of the Fourth ward, were opposed to any sort of redistricting, but wished the ward lines left as they now are.

Councilmen Chambers and Wood said that the matter should be carefully gone into and well digested before any action was finally taken.

Councilman Sisson said his ward, the Fifth, had about its just population and did not want any change.

Alderman Warren, of the Third ward, said his people, he believed, did not want the ward lines changed, but personally he thought there should be a more just division made of the area and population.

The matter will be thrashed out in public on March 28.

ANSWER MADE BY M'CLELLAND

Alderman Gives Out Card in Reply to Statement by Chambers.

Alderman John McClelland last night furnished The Constitution with the following card, in which he replies to a statement made by Councilman Chambers, which was published Tuesday, in regard to the proposed settlement of the differences between the Georgia Railway and Electric Company and the city:

"The pitiful excuse of Councilman Chambers, that 'he considered it his duty to serve Atlanta and not my candidacy for mayor,' is as foreign to the issues involved as the falsity of its imputation. I have not asked his support for anything, and if I am to measure his sincerity—stupidity—or, to be more charitable, the results he thinks he has obtained in delivering (as he thinks) Atlanta over to corporate control—I don't want his support or the support of any kindred alliances.

"His purpose was not to serve Atlanta, but to do what he and a few others conspired together to do, and that was to 'shut off,' as he says, my main avenue in the mayor's race. I raised the tax issue—corporate influences have tried to stifle me—and those who corporate influences controlled—aided and abetted.

"I would gladly now lend my aid to any man who will sincerely take up the issues involved—who has 'no collar'—and will 'stand hitched.' My personal and private interests demand my while time. But, having got into the fight, and perceiving so patiently the infirmities of those who pose as the political 'Moses' and openly stating that twenty-six had meekly held up their noses to be ringed and thenceforth led about by a fiber of less rtength than a jellyfish, I propose to stay in it to the finish; and Councilman Chambers' gratuitous statement that I have been 'shut off' in any quarter will be fully met on all occasions.

HENRY TEACHERS FOR UNDERWOOD

They Adopt Resolutions Indorsing Him as Hope of Democratic Party.

McDonough, Ga., March 12.—There closed here today a two-day session of the teachers of Henry county, which proved one of the best teachers' institutes ever held here. Miss C. S. Parrish, state institute instructor, was here and her work was very interesting and profitable.

The teachers adopted a number of ringing resolutions calling for better facilities and finally closed with an enthusiastic indorsement of Hon. Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, for president, as follows:

"That we indorse the candidacy of Hon. Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, for president of the United States, since the democratic party is doomed to defeat or is to be crowned with victory through his policies."

Republicans to Confer.

Washington, March 12.—The first conference of republicans of the house on legislative policies since the party became a minority in that body will take place tomorrow morning to consider the democratic free sugar bill and excise income tax measure and other legislation. Progressive republican representatives have been invited to participate, and there is every indication they will do so.

He Wants Free Potatoes.

Washington, March 12.—Senator Watson, of West Virginia, urged the senate finance committee today to suspend the 23 per cent duty on potatoes by an amendment to the steel bill. He wanted the suspension to continue until September 1, because of the present crop shortage. There was no action.

DETECTIVE BURNS SECURES LICENSE

Members of His Force Must Be Approved by Police Commission.

The application of William J. Burns, the great detective, to operate the American Detective Agency in Atlanta, was granted by the board of police commissioners, at the meeting last night. The board made the proviso that the detectives are to be approved by the commission, and are not to conflict with the operations of the local bureau.

"I would suggest that the detectives employed be brought before the commission," put in Commissioner Johnson. "The board should also order every other detective agency in the city to send their men up here for examination."

The detectives are to engage in bank cases only, and the operatives must be citizens of the city of Atlanta. The board also emphasized the fact that the agency must work in harmony with the Atlanta detectives and not conflict with the police authorities. The application was made through C. A. Sears, local representative of the Burns agencies.

C. H. Mason was elected chairman; W. F. Fain, vice chairman, and Graham Dozier, secretary. Commissioners Vernoy and Garner were sworn in as new members.

The contracts for furnishing the police with summer uniforms was awarded to Cantrell & McHugh on the following basis: Coats, $9.90; bicycle coats, $9.15; serveants' pants, $5.85; bicycle pants, $5.25; helmets, $2.25.

SAME TRICK---WATCH FOR SAME RESULTS.

The democratic state executive committee has called a presidential preference primary in Georgia on May 1, under restrictions that will convey no surprise to those familiar with the committee's history. Complying with the letter but ignoring the spirit of the rule promulgated by the national democratic executive committee looking to a bona fide and untrammeled expression of public sentiment, the state committee has devised a procedure that will be turned against it by the people of Georgia in their assertion of the principles of popular party government.

The national democratic committee decreed that presidential nominees and delegates to the national convention should be voted upon either in a direct primary by the people, or by a convention representing the people. The state executive committee has given the shadow but withheld the substance of this application of direct popular expression. Evidently, it did not intend that the people should have a chance to vote direct for national delegates. But delegates there must be, and the committee's alternative was a convention. There is to be a convention on May 29th, but delegates to it will be named, not by the people, but by the respective county executive committees—the committee conceding that delegates be chosen from the supporters of the candidate who receives the plurality vote of the primary. That is the effect of the ruling that keeps state and national delegates off the ballot to be handled by the people; that empowers the county committees to select the delegations to the state convention from among the "friends" of the successful candidate.

In other words, the delegates that assemble in Atlanta May 29th to choose a presidential candidate will not have been elected by the people. They will have been chosen by the county committees, solely on the basis of the state's plurality vote.

There will not be the suggestion of a minority in the approaching convention, in entire conformance with the committee's program, and that of the forces behind it, to suppress minority expression, in violation of all democratic precedent. For though scores of counties in the state, and thousands of democrats may vote against the candidate who happens to get the largest vote, neither these counties nor these democrats will be allowed a voice or a vote in the state convention. Cannonism and machine politics still comprise the committee's catechism.

But these identical factors have worked out before, to the undoing of the political ancestors of the committee. Evidence brews that history will repeat itself.

Four years ago the committee that was the creature of the "machine-reformers" of the Macon convention promulgated this exact procedure in an effort to stifle the minority and to deny power of protest and expression to the people. The one candidate with the largest state vote received all the delegates to the state convention. It mattered not if the party wing opposed to him rolled up a vote differing by a small margin. It was deemed easy and it was deemed advisable to bury deep a certain ex-railroad commissioner who had the temerity to oppose the machine. The trap was laid and the trigger set to that end.

What happened is history! The people rebelled overwhelmingly against the palpable effort to muzzle them. They saw both trap and trigger. And they pulled the one and sprung the other, but when the dust cleared away the trap contained—not the victim for which it was set, but those powers who had devised it to promote their selfish and undemocratic purposes.

A notable feature of the committee's program is the characteristic arrogance and recklessness with which it has again put the small country counties absolutely at the mercy of the larger city counties—though it is fortunate that there exists no tendency on part of the latter to take advantage of this sinister handicap. But, under the committee's ruling, it is, hypothetically, possible for a baker's dozen counties in this state to name Georgia's presidential choice, with an overwhelming number of the counties not only out in the cold, but denied even the right of protest and representation. The fact that it is highly improbable the city counties will deliberately seek to dominate the situation does not detract one whit from the absolute disregard for popular expression that could connive at such a contingency. Once more the county unit plan has gone glimmering.

The old trap has been brought out and again set. The people are denied the right to vote direct for their delegates, and minority representation is again abolished.

Let us see if the people, repeating their performance of four years ago, do not once more place dynamite under the trap and write the principle of popular sovereignty in an indelible chapter in the state's political history.

STILL HITCHCOCKISM DEFIES BUSINESS.

The amazing tribute the business men of this country needlessly and meekly pay to the farcical "economy" program of the postoffice department is forcefully illustrated in a campaign recently launched by The Journal of Commerce, published in New York city, and one of the greatest and sanest commercial dailies in the nation. Inspired by the demoralization and inefficiency that is making ducks and drakes of the mail service, irrespective of branch or section, this paper is issuing an organized appeal to the business men of America to unite their influence in a demand for sweeping reformation.

Following is an extract from a letter sent out by The Journal of Commerce:

> The notoriously unsatisfactory condition of the United States mail service is such that business men who are the greatest sufferers from a lax mail service should take active part towards bringing about an improvement. At no time has the service been so dilatory, and The Journal of Commerce is desirous of doing its part toward bringing back a prompt and efficient delivery of first and second-class mail matter. Complaints without number have been sent to the postoffice department, but without result, clearly showing the necessity of inaugurating some public movement and the creation of public sentiment to give to the business interests of the country the efficient mail service to which they are justly entitled.

The most bewildering feature of the situation is the supine attitude of the commercial interests of the country, the people generally of America. One of the distinguishing characteristics of the American business man, and the one that largely explains his success, is his insistence upon efficiency and upon the according of his rights. But in this particular he is grievously and strangely negligent of his own interests, permitting that governmental department upon which the smooth transaction of business most intimately depends to pare and keep paring railway mail and local postoffice facilities until delay and uncertainty have taken the place of speed and surety as keynotes of the country's postal service.

What the insane "economy" program of Hitchcockism has cost and is costing the business of this country it is literally impossible to estimate. For the sake of artificially disposing of a deficit in the postoffice upkeep, the department has gradually curtailed equipment and men in its every branch until the service it is giving the country is a howling travesty. If the average man's business were penalized in this manner from any other source, protest would be quick and overwhelming and continuous until readjustment was forthcoming. Fortunately, the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is already on record in its protest in the form of a sweeping investigation and the data resulting therefrom, which cover, not alone the deficiencies of the local service, but as well the defects in the railway mail service of this entire territory.

It will require organized and concerted action, however, to penetrate the lethargy that seems strangely prevalent in official Washington. The house committee on expenditures in the postoffice department, for instance, after a seven-months' alleged "probe" of Hitchcockism, seems still to be anesthetized by the department.

"Just From Georgia"

The Picture-Patriots.

"The movin' picture men continue to crowd the country with candidates, and I've got more business than I can handle," said the man who rents the stumps. They all want to have their pictures in a campaign-show. I didn't know till now that there were so many picture-patriots in the country!"

"The other day, when a man was knocked unconscious by the fast freight the coroner come rushin' up, with a jury, an' 'sat' on him immediately, in the hope that the moving picture folks would take a shot at him, and when the man riz up and hollered 'I ain't dead, by a durn sight!' the coroner an' his jury was so mad they fell on that feller as one man an' come nigh killin' him sure enough, for contempt o' court in lying there like he was a dead one after the train hit him.

"What I'd like to see would be them picture-chaps gettin' the fellers around here who were so loud in saying they were going to run the recent Suffragette convention out o' town. They'd be a sight to look at! Six of 'em are hobblin' around on crutches and the other five are beatin' carpets and pushin' lawn mowers under the direction of their wives."

His singing rattles so!

Sure, Spring should sing to us a bit,

Another Third Term Mystery.

"It's a wonder people are so slow to profit by the experience of others," says the Billville Banner. "We recently noted the sudden disappearance from our midst of the first man that announced for a third term as superintendent of the poor house, and now another chap who said that he felt a third-term call to save the country has vanished as if the earth had opened and swallowed him alive. But we counsel our people to lay low, and not get overly excited about it. The man may have tried to burn the woods, and in that case there's always danger of being consumed in the general conflagration. The will of providence be done! It isn't for us to interfere with it. One thing is sure: The man's hat is still in the ring, and he isn't here to claim it, and since his disappearing act no one has been reckless enough to toss another hat in to keep company with it. There is a moral in this little story which is plainer than a patent medicine sign on a barn door; but as we said before, we now reiterate: We are law-abiding people down this way!"

RATES ON COTTON SEED ARE ORDERED REDUCED

Washington, March 12.—Important reductions were ordered today by the interstate commerce commission in rates for transportation of cotton seed from points in Missouri and Arkansas to Memphis.

Existing rates were attacked by the Memphis Freight Bureau. It's contentions were sustained by the commission, which held that the present rates were unreasonable and discriminatory against Memphis in favor of St. Louis. The orders provide that the reductions, which vary from about 10 per cent to approximately 25 per cent, shall be made not later than April 15.

RED TAIL LIGHTS ON AUTOS WILL COST OWNERS $100,000

If you are in favor of having red tail lights hung to all the vehicles that move on Atlanta's streets after dark, or if you are opposed to them, you will have an opportunity of expressing your views before the council committee on ordinances and legislation Tuesday afternoon, March 26.

The committee on ordinances and legislation met yesterday afternoon to consider an ordinance, which had been introduced in council by Councilman Haverty, requiring red tail lights on all vehicles that appear on the streets after dark and before daylight. The ordinance also requires vehicles which carry license tags or numbers to have such numbers displayed in the rear, where they can be seen at night by the red lights.

Protection to Slow-Moving Vehicles.

Mr. Haverty stated to the committee that he believed such a law should be adopted because slow-moving vehicles on dark streets at night made it very dangerous for fast-moving autos, and he thought that red light signals would be a protection to the slow-moving vehicles. Such a law, he stated, had been adopted in St. Louis and other large cities and worked well.

Members of the committee believed the proposed law would be so drastic and would affect so many people that it would be best to hold a public session and invite the citizens to appear and make known their views.

Councilman Smith estimated that red tail lights, if placed on every vehicle in the city, would cost the people about $100,000. Alderman Warren was sure that it would exceed that amount.

Other Papers Acted Upon.

An ordinance introduced by Alderman Spratling, giving the recorder the power to sentence prisoners for twelve months was held up.

A favorable report was made on an ordinance by Councilman Abernathy which requires persons to pay only the accrued interest to date when an installment payment for public improvements is made before the same matures.

An unfavorable report was made on an ordinance by Alderman McClelland which prohibits the parking of vehicles on Whitehall street to Trinity avenue, Peachtree to Ellis, and North Pryor between Decatur and Peachtree.

The papers acted upon by the committee will go to council next Monday afternoon.

22 PERSONS INJURED WHEN TRAIN QUITS RAILS

Milwaukee, Wis., March 12.—Twenty-two persons were injured, none, it is said, fatally, when four passenger coaches of train No. 22 on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road today left the rails near Oakwood, Wis., 10 miles south of Milwaukee, and ran into a ditch. The accident was due, it is said, to spreading of the rails.

The baggage cars were demolished. The smoker was broken in two and overturned and the day coach was thrown on its side 100 feet from the right-of-way.

SAVANNAH NEGROES SUPPORTING DOYLE

Washington, March 12.—A delegation of negro republican leaders from Savannah, Ga., today urged President Taft to appoint Joseph S. Doyle postmaster of that city. There has been a hot fight since the former postmaster resigned. Assistant Postmaster Baker was said today to have the support of the postoffice department, while the republican organization, the chamber of commerce and business men are understood to be behind Doyle.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION INDORSED IN DECATUR

The proposed $30,000 bond election for improvement in the Decatur public school system was indorsed, plans were suggested and accepted for the installation of a fire alarm system, and many other propositions for civic benefit were discussed and arranged at the board of trade meeting last night.

The plan to install a fire alarm system throughout the city was arranged, and work will begin within a short while. The electric communicative system will be established and an immense fire bell will be bought.

The board also indorsed the suggestion to beautify the Georgia railroad right-of-way which extends through a large part of the city, by parking the property in plots of grass and flowers.

SANG WITH ALL MIGHT AND WAS TURNED LOOSE

Richmond, Ky., March 12.—Isaac Lakes sang himself out of jail here when he rendered "On Jordan's Stormy Banks I Stand," before a jury in the circuit court room. He was indicted for disturbing public worship by singing too loudly. Several continuances had been granted on account of the absence of witnesses, so the judge suggested that in lieu of testimony the jury be allowed to pass judgment on the prisoner's voice. The prisoner acquiesced and standing in the witness stand he sang with all his might. The jury retired and immediately acquitted the defendant.

CALL OF FOOTLIGHTS LURES BOY FROM HOME

With the call of the footlights too strong to be resisted, after he had tasted of the theatrical life for the period of two days, Bennie Langley, 17 years old, is missing from his father's home on R. F. D. route No. 5, Battle Hill.

After he left it was remembered that he had been constantly talking of life behind the scenes, the opportunity a "show" gave for travel about the world. His experience was gained by two days' work in a local theater, helping out behind the scenes.

His father, who is very anxious for his return, last night described his son as well built for his age, light hair and black eyes, and when he left home was wearing a blue suit and gray checked cap.

Others, also, are scheduled to deliver short talks in protest against the bill.

VIOLATION OF SINAITIC LAW CHARGED TO SUGAR MAGNATES

The Tenth Commandment.

Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his man servant, nor his maid servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbor's.

New York March 12.—The government outlined its case today against Washington B. Thomas chairman of the American Sugar Refining Company; John E. Parsons the 82-year-old lawyer who was formerly the company's chief counsel and three others all of whom were placed on trial charged with violation of the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Nearly 300 witnesses have been subpoenaed and almost as many are likely to testify for the defense The trial promises to last many weeks.

"This is one of the most extraordinary cases ever brought into court," said Feredal Prosecutor Wise in his opening address, "not in the nature of the charges, but the character of the men who allowed themselves to engage in the acts which I shall lay before you. These defendants are not only charged with violations of man-made law, but with the violation of the law handed down by God to Mosses in the Tenth Commandment

He read the Tenth Commandment to the jury and declared that it was the foundation of Sherman law, with violations of which the defendants are charged. For twenty years, he said, they had violated the law and had acquired, during that time, control of 75 per cent of the sugar industry of the country, when, in 1903, they saw a competitor in the form of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, which at a cost of $1,000,000, built and equipped a refinery at Philadelphia.

To prevent monopolistic control, the stock of this company was to be polled for six years, a committee of three stockholders advising the voting trustees and directing the business.

Before the organization was completed, officers of the American Sugar Refining Company, according to Mr. Wise, so contrived as to lend the new company $1,250,000 for an operating fund, taking as securities $500,000 worth of the Pennsylvania company's bonds and a majority of its capital stock. The source of this loan was not revealed until later, and then the American Sugar Refining Company closed the plant, without waiting even for the papers to be signed.

The lawyers through whom the arrangements were made, Mr. Wise said, were John E. Parsons and Thomas B Harned, attorney for Adolph Segal, of Philadelphia. Segal's compensation for making the deal, Mr. Wise added, was $100,050 in cash and an assignment of one-half of the majority stock (26,000 shares) of the Pennsylvania company.

James E. Freeman, the first witness, produced the minute books of the company's stockholders and directors. They were placed in evidence. They covered the period from 1903 to 1909 which the alleged offenses were committed.

That Loan of $1,250,000.

District Attorney Wise called for the agreement between Kissel and Adolph Segal, under which the loan of $1,250,000 was made to the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company. The government's suit revolves about this loan. Kissel was agent of the lenders of the transaction. Freeman said he had been unable to find an agreement, nor could he find, he said, a letter written by Kissel to the American Sugar Refining Company on April 2, 1904, four months after the agreement was made.

Through Freeman the government introduced scores of letters that passed between the defendants from 1902 to 1909, and the checkbooks of the company showing stubs of checks issued during that period.

Copies of the entries of the $1,250,000 loan in the cash book and ledger of the American company were marked for identification. These, Mr. Freeman said, were taken from the books of the controller of the American Company, but added that he would rather not say whether they were from the books of the New Jersey or the New York company.

PARENTS SEEK FOR PRETTY DAUGHTER

Heartbroken Mother Can Find No Trace of Little Miss Louise Harris.

Athens, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—No word has yet been received from Louise Harris, the 16-year-old girl who disappeared from her home in Athens after leaving the parental roof to visit the office of a local dentist. The mother of the child is heartbroken, and though the girl was traced as far as

MISS LOUISE HARRIS,
The 16-year-old girl whose disappearance from home is causing her parents great anxiety.

Atlanta, where, it was learned, she bought a ticket for Cartersville, no further news has been received from her.

The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harris, respectable people here, living on Nantahala avenue, are now afraid that some harm has come to their daughter. She had received letters twice from Guy Cowden, a young man well known to the police here, charged on more than one occasion with offenses against city and state laws. Though the young girl showed the letters to her mother and the elder woman found in them no intimation of an understanding about an elopement and no tender messages, it is feared that the Cowden youth is back of the disappearance of the girl.

THEATERS

"Everywoman."
(At the Grand.)

Local theatergoers who have seen "Everywoman," now playing at the Grand, are in a great measure responsible for the wide-spread knowledge of its merits which prevails; its novelty, purpose, beauty and size are all sufficiently out of the ordinary to explain the extensive word-of-mouth advertisement that has been given it. That "Everywoman" possesses an element of fascination for even the most habitual of theatergoers is evidenced by the frequent passage across the box office window ledge of the information that the seat purchaser has witnessed it before. Carefully conducted investigation has proven that "Everywoman" appeals with as much power to men as it does to women, and to the casual theatergoer as to the inveterate theatergoer who patronizes every play, good or bad, that the season offers.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

There has not been a prettier or more attractive act presented at the Forsyth this year than the "Courtiers," the Roite offering, which combines fine singing with clever playing on various instruments. There is something so restful about the act thatthe great majority of the audience are content to sit to the very close and then applaud them back upon the stage. Breen has proved himself one of the biggest monologue hits of the season and he has had many rivals during the past few months. Work and Ower are skillful and pleasing acrobats; their "rube" number is distinguished from other acts by the amount of real work they do. Most acrobats "stall" every now and then. These two boys are busy every second of the time they are on the stage.

Ward and Vokes.
(At the Lyric.)

Ward and Vokes, who are no strangers to Atlanta theatergoers, are being greeted by old friends and new this week at the Lyric. Their comedy efforts in the past have won for them an enduring place in the hearts of theatergoers, and this new musical concoction of theirs, "The Trouble Makers," is the funniest vehicle they have yet had. Lucy Daly, who is absolutely inimitable, is as great a favorite as the principles, and the company they have gathered together is a good one in every respect. The members of the chorus are actually pretty and add no little to the general enjoyment, and the costumes and scenery are far above the average. Theatergoers who fancy the lighter form of entertainment, with catchy songs, merry quips and jokes, will find "The Trouble Makers" at the Lyric the best thing of the season.

Frank McIntyre in "Snobs."
(At the Atlanta.)

Peculiar interest attaches itself to the third act of "Snobs," the New York and Chicago farce success which will bring Frank McIntyre to this city as a star next Thursday evening for a three days' engagement at the Atlanta theater. This act is one of the most intricate ever staged and reveals the passage back of the boxes in a metropolitan opera house. The scene shows three tiers of boxes with the balconies behind them and the balconies are what is known as "practical" so that the players can walk on them and in facf the greater portion of the act is played on these balconies. The leather doors at the back of the boxes open in what is supposed to be the auditorium of a theater and the illusion is made more complete by having ushers bring people in and seat them and when the doors swing open for an instant a glare of light and burst of music gives the impression of the performance going on behind the doors. The illusion is said to equal any ever devised by that stage wizard, David Belasco, and the scene is so heavy that it has to be built on an iron track. Frank McIntyre, who will be remembered for his delienation of the title role in James Forbes' comedy "The Traveling Salesman," is at his best in "Snobs" and has enjoyed long runs in both New York and Chicago. Seats now selling.

TIED HORSES ON TRACK FOR THE TRAIN TO KILL

Knoxville, Tenn., March 1.—Fred Carter was sentenced to serve a three-year penitentiary term in criminal court today, after being convicted on the charge of placing obstruction upon the track of the Southern Railway Company. The evidence showed that Carter had within a short time recovered damages against the railroad for having two horses killed. The railroad charged that Carter tied his horses on the track, and that he was paid double their value by the road. Carter denied this, but railroad detectives wove such a web of evidence around him that the jury brought in the above verdict.

KILLED BY EX-HUSBAND BEFORE HER CHILDREN

Louisville, Ky., March 12.—In the presence of her three children, who watched the tragedy in helpless terror, Mrs. Rebecca Franks, 32 years old, was shot to death by her former husband, Clinton McCarthy, at her home late this afternoon.

McCarthy called at the house this afternoon and asked Mrs. Franks to return to him. When she refused, McCarthy is alleged to have drawn a revolver and fired five shots at the woman, two of the bullets taking effect in her body, causing almost instant death.

McCarthy was arrested.

DR. BROUGHTON HONORED BY TABERNACLE STAFF

"I am a doctor, first, last and always, as well as a preacher," said Dr. Len G. Broughton, at the banquet tendered him by the medical and surgical staff of the Tabernacle infirmary last night, at the Georgian Terrace.

"My first touch from God was that of the physician. I look at a text today from the standpoint of cause and effect. I dissect it, feel its pulse, etc., and finally diagnose it. Then I begin to treat it, and continue to do so till I dismiss the case along with the congregation.'

The farewell dinner to Dr. Broughton, on the eve of his departure for England, where he will assume the pastorate of Christ church, London, was attended by about forty guests, including the staff, which acted as hosts. A number of addresses were made, and Dr. George M. Niles acted as toastmaster.

"Never have I known of a case, during the forty-two years of my ministry in New York city," said Dr. MacArthur, supply pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, "where a retiring minister was the guest of honor of a band of physicians, who had gathered together to do him honor. It is unique, in my experience."

The toasts were as follows:

"The Tabernacle Infirmary and Its Staff"—Dr E. G. Jones.

"The Medical Profession at Large"—Dr. E. C. Davis.

"Our Retiring President"—Dr. R. R. Kime.

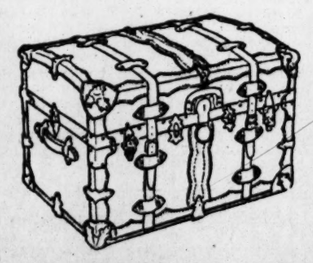

"The Board of Trustees"—S. C. Calloway

"Our New Relationship, the Atlanta Baptists"—Rev. C. W. Daniel.

"Our New Relationship, the Georgia Baptist Convention"—Rev. B. J. W. Graham.

"Our New Relationship, the Baptists of the World"—Rev. R. S. MacArthur.

"Farewell, But Not Goodby"—Rev. Len G. Broughton.

Alleged Forger Arrested.

Eufaula, Ala., March 12.—Will T. Brown, a watch repairer, of Morris, Ga., was arrested Sunday by Chief of Police Doughtie, of this place, and Sheriff Cadenhead, of Quitman county, as the man who passed off two worthless checks to the amount of $48 on H. Pearlman, a local merchant, last Tuesday. But Brown was given his freedom and the case brought to an end because the money was returned to Mr. Pearlman and the local man did not wish to prosecute the alleged forger. The two worthless checks were on the Farmers and Merchants' Bank of Georgetown, and bore the signatures of prominent citizens of Morris. It was this clue on which Chief Doughtie worked and secured enough evidence to arrest Brown, who, on being sweated, admitted his forgery.

Dunlap, who has been quite seriously ill with bronchial pnuemonia, is slowly improving now, and his friends are confident with careful nursing he will soon recover. As commissioner of the Georgia Bureau of Industries and Immigration, he has been instrumental in bringing many good citizens to the state and in locating enterprises at various points. As president of the Gainesville National bank, he has been a potent factor in the financial affairs of Gainesville.

Banquet in Gainesville.

Gainesville, Ga., March 12.—(Special.) On next Monday evening the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce will hold a banquet to which the members and their friends will be invited. Fat Reducing Ideas Are Proven Nature's Best

Fat is food turned into the wrong kind of material for the body. Instead of the blood taking up the food we eat and giving it to the body in the form of good, hard, sound flesh, nerve and bone, fat is thrown into the tissues and is packed around the organs and beneath the skin. This at last tears down all the vital forces of the system and destroys not only manly health and comeliness, but likewise results in death. The sure way and the best way is to take a Marmola tablet after each meal. You may then eat what you will, and when you will, and the stomach and digestive organs will turn the meal into the very kind of nourishment you most need. Fat is stopped at once and the fat you have is removed in a way that nature herself suggests, at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces per day, and there are no flabby rolls of skin and deep wrinkles left to remind you of the days when you were fat. Every druggist sells these tablets, which are made after the famous Marmola Prescription. They are harmless, but thousands prove that they do reduce fat just as we say they do. If you can't buy them from your druggist or you do prefer send 75 cents, the price of a case, to The Marmola Co., 287 Farmer Building, Detroit, Mich., and they will send same to you by return mail in a sealed and unmarked package.

To Mrs. Merrill.

A beautiful entertainment yesterday was the afternoon bridge and tea given by Mrs. D. H. Lopez and Mrs. Moise de Leon at the home of Mrs. de Leon. Mrs. R. H. Merrill, of Salt Lake City, was guest of honor, and invited to meet here were twenty ladies who played bridge and one hundred others who assembled at 5 o'clock for tea.

An elaborate decoration in foliage plants obtained throughout the house, and against this background of green were clusters of daffodils in vases and yellow tulips growing in baskets.

A prettily appointed tea table had as its centerpiece a basket of tulips, the silver candlesticks had yellow shades, and elaborate detail of color was in yellow.

The bridge prizes were a cut-glass dish and a pair of hatpins.

Mrs. De Leon wore a beautiful silk voile gown in black and white over rose-pink satin. Mrs. Lopez wore a graceful gown of green satin veiled with black Chantilly lace. Mrs. Merrill wore Delft blue marquisette over white satin, with a trimming of velvet roses, and a cloth-of-gold cap with a white aigrette. Miss Irene Lopez wore a blue gauze gown spangled in silver over blue blue satin and a blue spangled cap trimmed with silver roses.

Mrs. E. A. Holbrook poured tea and Miss Madge Horne and Miss Laura Ripley served punch.

Bridge Tea.

Mrs. Charles Bowen entertained delightfully at bridge yesterday afternoon in compliment to Miss Madeline Beers, of Taunton, Mass., the guest of Mrs. Harold Beers. The occasion was an informal one of three tables, and after the game the players were joined by a few other guests for tea.

Matinee Tea.

Mrs. E. A. Holbrook will give a matinee party Thursday, followed by tea at the Georgian Terrace, in compliment to Mrs. R. H. Merrill, of Salt Lake City, the guest of Mrs. D. H. Lopez.

To Mrs. Wellhouse.

Mrs. Werner S. Byck was hostess at bridge tea yesterday at the Georgian Terrace, the occasion a handsome one and a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Alvin Wellhouse before her departure for a year's travel abroad.

There were fifty guests, and the game was played in the reception room on the mezzanine floor, where there was picturesque setting for the players in a luxurious arrangement of palms, and in baskets of pink roses which were effective and beautiful against the prevailing rose and gray of the furnishings.

Score cards, prizes and souvenirs were bon voyage suggestions, and the game was followed by delicious refreshments served at the card tables.

Mrs. Byck wore an elegant toilet in white lace.

To Miss Erwin.

At the same place Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock he will lecture on "The Mystic Link Between Sense and Soul." The New York Press says: "Henry Frank is a brilliant speaker. Kimbrough-Long.

Leesburg, Ga., March 12.—(Special.) Friends and acquaintances of Mr. Lucius Kimbrough and Miss Mary Long were surprised this morning to learn that these young people were married last night in Albany.

The bride is one of Leesburg's prettiest young ladies and is much admired for her lovable, Christian character. She is the daughter of the late W. H. Long, of this place, and a niece of Judge H. L. Long, of the city court.

Mr. Kimbrough formerly lived at Leesburg and is at present working as field subscription agent for The Atlanta Journal in the southwest Georgia territory. The future plans of the happy couple are yet to be determined, though they for the present will be at Leesburg.

CRITICAL TIME OF WOMAN'S LIFE

From 40 to 50 Years of Age. How It May Be Passed in Safety.

Odd, Va.:—"I am enjoying better health than I have for 20 years, and I believe I can safely say now that I am a well woman. I was reared on a farm and had all kinds of heavy work to do which caused the troubles that came on me later. For five years during the Change of Life I was not able to lift a pail of water. I had hemorrhages which would last for weeks and I was not able to sit up in bed. I suffered a great deal with my back and was so nervous I could scarcely sleep at night, and I did not do any housework for three years.

"Now I can do as much work as any woman of my age in the county, thanks to the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I recommend your remedies to all suffering women."—Mrs. MARTHA L. HOLLOWAY, Odd, Va.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. We know of no other medicine which has such a record of success as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For more than 30 years it has been the standard remedy for woman's ills.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

EVERY WOMAN BUYS HER SPRING HAT

The inclemency of the weather—the idea that she could admire herself uninterrupted, try on every hat in the shop, brought "every woman" to the millinery openings yesterday.

There were the palms, the perfumed artificial flowers for a setting, and the limelight which lent itself to making "every woman" a "star," for "flattery" was there, more often in the woman knowing woman than in "prince charming." "Truth" now and then lurked in the background, when a sudden turn of the mirror or a gleam of daylight from the window, a line showed in the face that made the baby shaped hat lined with pink and clustered with roses more suited to just "youth" than to "every woman," and conscience, like the "eternal witness who will see that justice is done," laid her hand on every woman now and then to remind her that "wealth was not hers."

For Youth.

For youth there were wondrously pretty hats which made every woman finger enviously the white braid hats covered with delicately painted chiffon; caught with tight little bows of narrow satin ribbon and cunning French flowers, all placed there by the French millinery imparting to these hats a part of her own "nature intriguante." A bonnet shaped creation of creamy Venetian lace had on the top of the crown an application in silk tapestry showing a design in Dresden roses. A band of blue velvet defined the shape of the narrow brim and in the very front of the hat was cut out a piece to show the little bang which women are wearing now, to break the severe line made by the present fashion of wearing the hair parted on the side.

For youth verging on maturity was a hat of white straw faced on the upturned side with palest blue silk overlaid with with sheer white lace, while height and style were given in a cluster of waving blue plumes. Milan straw hats, their crowns covered with pink roses in natural colored foliage, were many, and there were ecru colored leghorns faced with black velvet, and defying modesty in tehir trimming of the vivid new color called primrose, but close enough to cerise to claim cousinship.

Flowers of every kind and color, large and small, and the narrow ribbons applied in every way are used on hats for youth and spring.

For Beauty.

For beauty, blonde or brunette, beauty in her fullness there are bewitching hats this season: in one group there was favor for dark colors; in another there was all the symbolism of spring in the lighter colors expressed in pinks and blues and coral color.

A hat in which the brunette beauty would realize a conquest was in thinnest braid straw, broad brimmed and draped in tulle. Underneath the brim to the back was a soft bow of foliage green velvet. On the flat brim was more green velvet and height given to one side near the back in a sweeping parsdise aigrette in black. Illustrating the favor this season of maline and lace hats was another with broad brim, this one in black lace, with a dull red rose underneath the brim drooping one side more than the other; height given in roses shading from the deep tinted liberty rose to those more of the American Beauty in tone.

In a becoming shade of stone blue straw was a hat which was suited to beauty and youth, and modesty could not feel repellant, for though it was turned back from the face, it was softened and made very feminine in effect by two white ostrich plumes which waved back on one side.

For Modesty.

For modesty and every woman, too, when she goes out in the morning or afternoon, and does not want to attract for anything more than neatness and gentility, there are worlds of appropriate hats this season. A type of these was in a little purple Tam O'Shanter in shape. It appeared to be two small hats, one laid upon the other, the topmost keeping the other in place, and the only trimming was a cluster of tiny wild flowers afraid to open wide.

A leghorn hat suggested the same appropriateness for any time. The narrow brim was covered with two-tone toneta silk showing taupe one moment and the light of rose the next, while on one side was a little aigrette of wheat and field flowers held tight together.

Dark violet straw hats are made seasonable by bunches of Richmond roses, there being in many of the hats the French tendency for combination in the bringing together of dark violet and the harmonizing tones of American Beauty.

The all-black hat, plumed and sometimes lightened by full bows of tulle; the black hat with white plumes stands ready for any occasion and always in good taste.

Veils for spring are lacy and filmy in effect and draped on the brims of the larger hats, while the small hat is still held close to the head by the veil being fastened tight to the back of the neck and then drawn to the brim of the hat.

To Miss McKenzie.

Mrs. Woods White's 5 o'clock tea yesterday in compliment to Miss Annie Lee McKenzie was one of the happiest of the winter's debutante functions.

It was given in the terrace dining room at the Georgian Terrace, which made a fresh and picturesque setting in its prevailing white and green for the lovely gathering of young girls, forty guests enjoying Mrs. White's hospitality.

A profusion of daffodils introduced a contrasting color note with the green of palms and the all-white woodwork, and the yellow of the flowers was repeated in the cups holding the ices, and in delicious French pastry. The music of the Spanish orchestra was a delightful feature of the afternoon.

Mrs. White wore a becoming toilet in white chiffon with a border design in pink iridescence, the whole veiled with cream chiffon cloth paneled with lace. Her white hat was trimmed with plumes.

Receiving with her were Miss McKenzie and her guest, Miss Lucy Hoke Smith, and assisting in entertainment were Mrs. George McKenzie, Mrs. Ronald Ransom and Mrs. John K. Ottley.

Miss McKenzie's brunette beauty had becoming setting in her coral-colored charmeuse gown and black picture hat.

Miss Smith wore a chiffon cloth gown in old blue and a black hat trimmed with aigrettes the same color.

The guests were Miss Passie May Ottley, Miss Mary Traylor, Miss Lula Dean Jones, Miss Lida Whitner, Miss Corrie Whitner, Miss Anne Barnett, of Washington, Ga., the guest of Mrs. Samuel Barnett; Miss Martha Francis, Miss Lula White, Miss Miriam Smithdeal, Miss Harriet Calhoun, Miss Frances Connally, Miss Katherine Wylie, Miss Sarah Rawson, Miss Laura Ansley, Miss Caroline Muse, Miss Mignon McCarty, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Jennie D. The meeting concluded with a social hour, during which delicious refreshments were served.

The game was played in the lounge room, and tea was served at the small tables from a daintily appointed buffet decorated with pink carnations and white hyacinths.

There was a prize for each table, baskets of graceful design, and they were won by Mrs. Sims Bray, Mrs. Thomas B. Paine, Mrs. Henry Grady and Miss Louise Dooly.

Mrs. Harman was becomingly gowned in black sating, the corsage of Irish lace veiled with black chiffon, and her velvet hat was trimmed with black plumes. Mrs. Harman, Jr., wore a smart white charmeuse gown draped with black chiffon and a black picture hat trimmed with Paradise feathers. Mrs. Speed was lovely in black velvet, and her black velvet bonnet was trimmed with silver lace and French rosebuds.

TALESMEN BALK IN WOMAN'S TRIAL

Case of Annie Crawford Charged With Poisoning Sister, Before Court.

New Orleans, March 12.—When court adjourned late today three jurors had been selected from a panel of sixty-nine summoned for the trial of Miss Annie Crawford, under indictment for murdering her sister, Elise, with poison last September. A second panel of 200 was drawn, the sheriff being instructed to have the talesmen in the courtroom when the trial begins at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Opposition to conviction on circumstantial evidence and to capital punishment for a woman resulted in talesmen being excused in rapid succession, thirty being examined this afternoon, with only one juror being secured out of that number.

Heavily veiled and wearing deep mourning, the Crawford woman, who is but 25 years old, took her place in the court room. She kept her features concealed beneath the folds of the veil as the attorneys for the state asked each talesman whether or not he had scruples against the imposition of the death penalty. Examination of six talesmen finally resulted in one man's acceptance as a juror.

The charge against Annie Crawford grew out of the discovery that her sister Eliz died of morphine poisoning, following closely the deaths of Annie Crawford's mother, father and another sister under mysterious circumstances. Although suspected of the murder of her other relatives, the Crawford woman is only charged with her sister's murder. The state will endeavor to prove that her motive in causing her sister's death was to collect insurance money. The state will also attempt to prove that the defendant collected insurance money on the lives of her father, mother and sister Mary.

REFORMS ARE PROPOSED IN PUBLIC PRINTING

Washington, March 12.—Reforms galore in the nation's public printing, estimated to save the government millions of dollars, were described to the senate today in a statement by Senator Smoot on the seven years' work of the printing investigating commission in the preparation of the bill revising all the laws relating to printing. Mr. Smoot said the commission discovered ten million practically worthless documents accumulated in Washington within seventeen years and he believed that the actual loss due to defective methods of distributing public documents had cost not less than $25,000,000 in seventeen years. He said that not even the presidents of the United States have had such discretionary power except in war emergencies as public printers have had in expending for printing machinery and material more than $1,000,000 in one year without approval or advice of any government officer.

Senator Smoot said the commission, which, so far, has cost the government less than $35,000 had effected a saving of several million dollars and he estimated $600,000 annual saving in further economies, besides stopping the sending of prints of millions of useless publications through the mails.

The bill he advocated would effect a permanent organization for the government printing office.

WAGE ADVANCES BY COTTON MILLS

Crest of Movement Reaches Fall River and 25,000 Employees Benefited.

Boston, Mass., March 12.—The crest of the higher wage movement in New England textile circles reached Fall River this afternoon and the 25,000 employees of 100 print cloth mills there will receive a 5 per cent advance on March 25. The action of the Fall River mills brings the total of wage earners in New England textile plants who will get better pay to 175,000. The textile council of New Bedford has decided to ask for an advance in that city.

An advance of 5 per cent also was announced by the cotton mills of Taunton, Holyoke, Chicopee, and other places, as well as by the Worcester Woolen Mills and the Hoosac Cotton Company's mills at North Adams. At the latter plant 260 operatives of the spinning department struck for an increase and better working conditions, an hour before the advance was announced. It is expected, however, that all the operatives will return tomorrow.

Cotton and woolen mills in New England employing about 100,000 persons have not made a formal announcement regarding the wage question, but it is expected in Boston mill circles that notices will be posted shortly in many additional establishments announcing higher schedules.

Many of the fine cotton manufacturers in Rhode Island, the Blackstone Valley, the northeastern Connecticut and western Massachusetts are awaiting the outcome of a wage demand in New Bedford, where there are 30,000 operatives, before acting.

When business is in first-class condition there are about 300,000 textile operatives in New England. It is estimated that the general advance of from 5 to 7 per cent will cost the 1,500 textile manufacturers $5,000,000 a year.

In some of the Lawrence mills it is understood the rise will be at least 12 per cent for many classes of help.

BERRY SCHOOL HOST TO MANY VISITORS

Rome, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—During the past week the Berry school faculty has entertained with a number of informal teas and receptions several distinguished visitors. Among them were Miss Hilda Roberson Smith, secretary of the Berry School Association, of New York, accompanied by Miss Margesson, daughter of Lady Isabel Margesson, prominent in royal society circles in London.

Professor Webb, superintendent of the preparatory school for boys at Bellbuckle, Tenn., spoke to the Berry school boys on "Wisdom and Folly." He said that the school was already a magnificent lifetime's work. Dr. J. Hopwood and wife, of Richmond, Va., also visited the school during the week and had many words of commendation for the work that is being done.

After the Smelter Trust.

Washington, March 12.—The house today adopted a resolution calling upon the department of justice to make known whether the department was investigating any "smelter trust" in the United States, whether the American Smelting and Refining Company was connected with it and whether prosecutions were begun or in contemplation.

HOOPER NAMED FOR GOVERNOR

He Is Nominated for Second Term by the Republicans of Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., March 12.—In a condition remarkable for the fact that not a single dissenting vote was cast on any question the republican party of Tennessee today made nominations for two state offices and adjourned sine die.

Governor Ben W. Hooper was renominated for office by a unanimous vote, his name being placed before the convention by Hon. Asbury Wright, of Knoxville. Judge H. N. Cate, of Newport, was also unanimously nominated for the office of judge of the court of civil appeals, which he now holds as an appointment of Governor Hooper.

No nominations were made for the offices of judge of the supreme court nor for railroad commissioner, the matter being left with the state executive committee of the republican party with full authority to make the nominations. It is understood that this was done for the purpose of later combining with the independent democrats on a fusion ticket.

After the adoption of the resolutions which indorsed the administrations of Governor Hooper and President Taft in decisive terms and indorsed President Taft for renomination to office, Governor Hooper addressed the convention in a brief speech.

Among the new laws suggested were compulsory primary law, corrupt practices act, law prohibiting the issuance of passenger franks to public officials, creation of state highway department, liberal confederate pensions, law prohibiting legislators from practicing before departments, fellow servants' law and workmen's compensation act, uniform divorce laws for all the states, bipartisan prison board and civil service among subordinates, a law giving a convict's dependents a part of his earnings, supervision of express rates by railroad commission.

The present back tax system was condemned and the administration of Comptroller Dibrell of the delinquent tax law criticised. The convention reaffirmed the party's stand on the liquor laws and urged additional legislation to aid in their enforcement. Congress was called on to enact a law prohibiting liquor shipments into dry territory.

In accepting renomination Governor Hooper's speech was a challenge to the opposing party.

He said in part:

"I want to say here and now that I am going out to make a fight from Bristol to Memphis for the election of a legislature in sympathy with the policies for which I stand. So far as my own candidacy is concerned, I feel confident.

"When I appeal to the people for a legislature free from saloon domination, my appeal is not based alone upon grounds of temperance and morality. A genuine reformation of the back tax system cannot be expected from a whisky legislature, because the back tax machine and the whisky lobby will work hand in hand.

"No sensible taxpayer would believe for a moment that a saloon-ridden legislature would be a safe body to refund the state debt.

"The restoration of the saloons to political power means the return to dishonest elections, the stuffing of ballot boxes and the falsification of returns."

MONASTERY? O, NO!

Just a Lot of Military Cadets Who Shaved Their Craniums.

Norfolk, Va., March 12.—(Special.)—The commandant of cadets at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute is bald. The fringe of hair that remains he keeps closely cropped. This is believed to have something to do with an amazing rush of work that has come to the barbers of Blacksburg in the last two days.

Day before yesterday half a dozen had their hair clipped close and had neat bald spots shaved from forehead to crown. Their appearance in the mess hall that evening created a sensation.

Yesterday morning nearly every cadet acquired a bald spot, and the mess hall on their craniums looked like the dining room of a monastery.

Physicians have had to prescribe for colds from which twenty of the boys are suffering.

WRITES FAMILY NOTE; DROWNS SELF IN LAKE

Columbia, S. C., March 12.—After leaving a note with a negro woman, telling his family where to find his body, Windman Smith, a prominent Hampton county farmer, drowned himself in Lowndes lake about noon today. His body was found floating on the surface of the lake. Smith was 68 years of age. Mental derangement is the reason assigned for his suicide.

TEXAS COTTON MILLS STRONGLY DEFENDED

Austin, Texas, March 12.—In a letter to Governor Colquitt today, State Labor Commissioner Starling vigorously challenged a report emanating from the federal department of commerce and labor to the effect that conditions in Texas cotton mills were deplorable, and that wages paid put the names of most of the men employees on the patronage list of loan sharks. The commissioner says that he has investigated conditions, and there is no truth in the report.

LIFE, HOPES, AMBITION BLASTED BY ACCIDENT

New Orleans, March 12.—A story of blasted youth and crushed ambitions is set forth in a damage suit for $100,000 filed in the United States court here yesterday by Leo V. Hastings, aged 26, born in Donegal, Ireland, and a subject of Great Britain.

Hastings alleged that he is a graduate of Trinity college, in Ireland, and an athlete of international reputation; that he came to America to learn the railroad business from the "bottom up." While employed as a flagman on a logging train of the Natalbany and Nathez Railroad Company last December, he was injured while coupling cars in such a manner as to be a hopeless paralytic, deaf and dumb, blind in one eye and paralyzed on one side. "Far worse than any pain," said the petition, "is petitioner's mental anguish at having his life, hopes and ambitions blasted."

Why Premature Gray Hair?

There are many causes of premature gray hair. Sickness, a nervous temperament, impoverished blood, deficient scalp nutrition, sometimes it is hereditary and the daughter finds herself quite gray in her early thirties. We don't always know the cause, but we do know that gray hair adds at least ten years to the age of a woman be she old or young, and when a young woman's hair begins to fade and lose its color, it is very foolish for her to let it go on unheeded. In a year or two she will be an old gray headed woman. And just a little care and treatment can save her hair and her youth.

Our Robinnaire Hair Dye is not a vulgar bleach or artificial coloring for the hair. It is a pure, scientific preparation of tonic virtue which restores your hair to its own natural color and beautiful healthy conditions. If your hair is losing its life and color there is no reason at all why you should hesitate to use this pure restorative, any more than that you should refuse to use a cure for dandruff. The fading gray hair and the dandruff both result from scalp diseases and both should be treated.

Robinnaire's Hair Dye we make in our own laboratory and personally guarantee to be pure and harmless. Non-sticky and does not stain skin or scalp. Use it at once if your hair is turning gray, and you will be wondrously surprised and pleased at the result. Retain your youth as long as you can, because when it slips away you never can get it back.

JUDICIAL RECALL FAVORED BY BRYAN

Nebraskan Also Urges Ohio to Adopt Initiative and Referendum.

Columbus, Ohio, March 12.—William Jennings Bryan today gave the Ohio constitutional convention his views on the making of the constitution. He spoke in favor of the initiative and the referendum and the recall, saying the recall is an evolution, rather than a revolution. Mr. Bryan said:

"The only difference between the recall, as now proposed, and impeachment as it has been employed, is that in impeachments the trial is before a body of officials, while the recall places the decision in the hands of the people."

Mr. Bryan said there was no darker page in our industrial life than that which recorded indifference to the welfare of children, "the coining of dividends out of childhood, the darkening of the prospects of a rising generation and the impoverishment of posterity."

In championing the initiative and referendum Mr. Bryan said:

"Experience has shown that the defects of our government are not in the people themselves, but in those who, acting as representatives of the people, embezzle power and turn to their own advantage the authority given them for the advancement of the public welfare.

"The initiative and referendum do not decrease the importance of legislative bodies, nor do they withdraw authority from those who are elected to represent the people; on the contrary, when the people have the initiative and referendum with which to protect themselves they can safely confer a larger authority upon their representatives."

Concerning courts and recall of judges Mr. Bryan said:

"The judge, like every other officer, is the servant of the people, and there is no reason why he should be made independent of a permanent public opinion upon questions fundamental in character.

"The judge who would be swerved by fear of a recall would not be fit for the place anyhow. If there is any position in which we need rigid, uncompromising uprightedness, it is upon the bench, and the recall instead of menacing the independence of the judiciary, is more likely to improve the character of those who occupy judicial positions. With the recall official terms may with safety be made longer."

Mr. Bryan's views as expressed today are opposite to those outlined by Governor Judson Harmon, who addressed the chartermakers several weeks ago. Governor Harmon urged them to wait until the initiative and referendum had been tried in some other states.

FIRE HORSE BURNED TO DEATH IN STALL

New Orleans, March 12.—"Happy," one of the best known horses in the city fire department, was burned to death in his stall at Patrol No. 2 here yesterday. While the company was hurrying to a fire in another part of the neighborhood, flames broke out in a shed in the rear of the patrol station. Barking dogs first directed attention to the fire, which had gained enough headway to destroy a part of the patrol station and stalls before other firemen could bring it under control.

KEROSENE EXPLOSION BURNS TWO CHILDREN

Troy, Ala., March 12.—Two little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Bessant were so badly burned here late yesterday afternoon that their injuries may prove fatal. The younger child, about 2 years old, was playing with a kerosene can and poured some on the fire. Immediately the can exploded, covering the child with burning oil. The older sister, about 5 years old, ran to her assistance and reached her as the can exploded, and was also badly burned by the oil. The mother, who tried to extinguish the flames, also received painful burns.

STAR COMEDIAN HIRES THREE ATLANTA COONS

The quaint dialect of a negro porter in the Atlanta Club has won him, his wife and sister places in the corps of servants in the household of Dave Montgomery, of Montgomery & Stone, who recently played in the "Old Town" at the Atlanta theater.

Mr. Montgomery was born and reared in Missouri. Although his home is in New York, because that city is the stage center of the country, he is a most loyal southerner, and never fails to take trips into the south when they are possible. His home on Sixty-first street is a magnificent one. While he is on the road it is supervised by his married sister, who lives there with her husband.

For years he has been an intimate friend of Manager Hugh Cardoza, of the Forsyth, and was with him during the major part of his recent visit to Atlanta.

Shortly before he left, he remarked to Mr. Cardoza one afternoon, while in the Atlanta Club, that he wanted three southern negroes for his New York household.

Mr. Cardoza called one of the club porters, Clifford Clark, and introduced him to the comedian, who was so favorably impressed that he engaged the porter, his wife and sister.

Mr. Cardoza received a check for $75 from Mr. Montgomery for transportation. The negroes started for New York Monday.

Fined as "White Slaver."

Tampa, Fla., March 12.—Following her plea of guilty to the charge of bringing a young girl here from Louisville, Ky., for immoral purposes, Marion Lawrence was today sentenced in the federal court to pay a fine of $500. On a showing that the woman was in ill health Judge Locke suspended a prison sentence on the woman's promise to leave the city.

Renewing Complexions By Absorption

If your complexion is marred with blotches, sallowness, moth patches, pimples, blackheads or freckles, it's useless to putter with powders and paints, jellies, creams and things. Unless you have some ability as an artist you'll mar your appearance still more.

The new and rational way is to take off the complexion itself, with all its offensive marks. Just get an ounce of pure mercolized wax at the druggist's and use at night same as cold cream. Remove next morning with water and soap. The mercolized wax absorbs the half-dead scarf skin in flaky particles, so gradually no one guesses you're treating your face—unless it be by the result, which is truly wonderful. There's nothing like it for restoring a natural, healthy and beautiful complexion.—Aunt Sally.

FIGHT TO SPLIT RAILWAY MERGER

Government Wants to Separate Union and Southern Pacific.

In Presenting the Case to the Supreme Court the Government's Attorneys Severely Criticise the Decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Washington, March 12.—The government's fight to split the merger of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railway systems opened today in the supreme court of the United States. Attorney General Wickersham and his special assistants, Frank B. Kellogg and C. A. Severance, filed a comprehensive brief of their arguments to be made orally in court shortly after April 1, when the legality of the merger will be presented for decision.

In addition to the brief of arguments a second brief of 600 pages was required to set forth the "facts" in the case. The court was told in the second brief that the railway combination now sought to be dissolved originated with Edward H. Harriman, Jacob H. Schiff and associates. It brought under a common control, the government stated, the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake with various ocean steamship lines, among which was the Pacific Steamship Company, which forms a part of the Panama route from New York to San Francisco and in addition had secured an influential voice in the management of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company.

Court Decision Criticised.

The government criticized severely the circuit court of appeals of the eighth circuit which dismissed the petition for dissolution of the merger. Judge Hook alone dissented. The brief declares that the government could not understand how the court below got the impression that the government did not claim that the Union Pacific was a competitor of the Southern Pacific [illegible] ing nearer than a thousand miles or more away from its lines.

"This statement is contrary to the claim of the government in the petition and in argument," says the brief, "and is contrary to the evidence of scores of witnesses."

The decision is attacked because the court held the Union Pacific could not be a competitor of the Southern Pacific by reason of the fact that its traffic moved to California points over the Southern Pacific from Ogden.

"Is it possible," asked the brief, "that the Union Pacific with its thousands of miles of railway and steamship lines reaching from the Missouri river to Portland and San Francisco has no appreciable effect on commerce in its competition with another complete system reaching the same general territory?"

Trial Court Wrong.

The government declared the trial court was wrong in holding two railroads could not be competitors unless the competitive business could be handled by them wholly over their own rails. Instead of there being no impairment of service, the government asserted that the merger had resulted in the gross increase of rates, the prevention of the construction of new lines into competitive territory and a "sensible deterioration" of service.

The government attorneys contend that the "rule of reason" applied by the supreme court in the Standard Oil and Tobacco cases was not to be applied in passing upon this merger.

"The court did not decide that where it appears that there is a restraint upon two great systems of competing roads," said the government, "it is proper for it to substitute its judgment as to whether such restraint is reasonable or unreasonable. Such restraints were declared illegal in these cases."

BLACKING MAN'S EYE COSTS DOCTOR $25.75

John D. Culley, a real estate clerk, exhibited a blackened eye in court yesterday afternoon, and charged that Dr. Frank Edmondson, proprietor of a drug store at No. 106 North Pryor street and another at 14 South Broad street, was the cause of his temporary facial disfigurement. Judge Broyles fined the accused druggist $25 and costs. Culley told the court that Dr. Edmondson used a horse whip on him.

Culley, who is a clerk with the real estate firm of Foster & Robson, testified that he went to the Georgian apartments, owned by Dr. Edmondson, to speak to one of the tenants. He met the physician on the sidewalk and they had an altercation. Culley says that he tried to prevent trouble by getting in his buggy to drive away, but Dr. Edmondson snatched the whip and struck him on the eye with the heavy end.

Dr. Edmondson admitted that he struck Culley, but he said that it was with his fist and not with a whip.

FATALLY WOUNDS MEN WHO CALLED HIM "SCAB"

Birmingham, Ala., March 12.—Two men were fatally cut early tonight in the lavatory lobby of a prominent hotel building at Second avenue and Nineteenth street by Benjamin F. Crossland, of New York, a stationary engineer employed on one of the new Birmingham skyscrapers. The men who will die, are Claude Drake, of Birmingham, a boilermaker, and R. A. Walton, Birmingham, also boilermaker.

The quarrel arose over the question of unions, the two men who were stabbed charging Crossland with being a "scab." The two men were terribly slashed by the knife wielded by Crossland and physicians state neither has a chance to recover.

LOST DIAMOND RINGS GRACED NEGRO'S FINGER

Mrs. William Kelly, of 167 Angier avenue, is happy in the possession of two beautiful diamond rings which, up to yesterday morning, she mourned as lost. The sparklers were located by Detectives Pate and Rosser. Lois Jackson, a negro maid, arrested for a petty theft, sported the rings when she was brought to detective headquarters, Tuesday morning.

The negress denied that she stole the rings. She told the detectives that the sparklers were given to her by her sweetheart.

THEATER ROOF BLOWN AWAY AT PERFORMANCE

Pensacola, Fla., March 12.—Pensacola's streets and water front presented a somewhat wrecked condition today as the result of last night's windstorm, which at one time attained a velocity of upwards of eighty miles an hour. A number of houses were unroofed, fences and trees were blown down and considerable damage was done to smaller craft in the harbor. Windows in most of the taller buildings were broken by the force of the wind, and several people are reported to have suffered slight cuts by flying glass.

A panic was narrowly averted at a local theater when during a performance the roof of the house was partly blown off, most of the audience becoming thoroughly drenched by the rain which poured in through the opening.

Docks and warehouses along the water front suffered considerably.

No reports of accidents to vessels in the gulf have been received here.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE

The electric needle can be resorted to for the removal of superfluous hairs, but the operation is expensive and requires a first-class operator. Wild hairs can be quickly and easily removed at home by the application of delatone paste. Mix enough powdered delatone with water and cover the hairy surface, apply and wipe off after two or three minutes; then wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

A clear, soft and satiny complexion can be achieved by rubbing the face, neck and arms gently each morning with a solution made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. This is a wonderful complexion beautifier and prevents growth of hair.

To reduce swellings, allay inflammation, to stop ache in back or joints, to relieve pain from strain, bruise, sore muscles or any cause, apply Mother's Salve before retiring, rubbing in well. It is used for neuralgia, headache, rheumatism, lumbago, etc. The world never saw its equal as a pain reliever.

Don't catch cold washing your head. To make a dry shampoo that cleans the scalp and hair put a cupful of cornmeal in a fruit jar, add contents of an original package of therox, and shake well together. Sprinkle a spoonful on the head and brush well through the hair. It will make the hair light, fluffy and beautifully lustrous.

WANT FAT-REDUCING SPECIALIST T TO HEAD WOMEN'S TICKE

Marjorie Hamilton, Who Has Made Fortune as Enemy of Embonpoint, Offered High Political Honors.

Denver political circles are planning to make the greatest equal suffrage demonstration in the history of the movement at the next presidential election. To do this, the leaders in the movement have hit on what they consider to be a unique idea. They are going to offer as their candidate the best advertised woman in the United States. This is the famous calendar girl and fat reducing expert, Marjorie H. Hamilton.

Miss Hamilton has been living in Denver for some time now and it is from here that she has conducted her campaign against fat, using as her slogan, the line that faces one from every newspaper and magazine in the country: "Fat Vanishes a Pound a Day." The suffragists believe that the fame that has come to Denver, through the phenomenal success of this beauty crusade, will aid them materially.

Miss Hamilton is a bright and energetic young woman, as well as a famous beauty, and she has a tremendous following here and throughout the entire world among social leaders and actresses who keep down their weight with her new drugless treatment. She has built up an enormous business with her new treatment for obesity and her executive ability is looked on as a powerful asset by the suffrage leaders. Miss Hamilton has taken up the question seriously and her offices in the Central Bank building are now thronged daily with an oddly assorted crowd of beauty seekers and political boomers.

"Now, that I am thin again, I'll run for any office they want me for," said Miss Hamilton, in a recent interview, "but it must be on a beauty platform and our campaign's slogan must be: 'Fat Vanishes a Pound a Day.' I couldn't run for anything, however, when I was a fat joke." Then she laughed and declined to be a candidate because her affairs are keeping her too busy to do anything but run her own business. But the suffragettes still hope to bring her to accept the offer for a political job. It would be strange if Miss Hamilton's great success as a fat reducing specialist should lead her to the White House.

TAKEN ILL AT OFFICE

Having Spent Several Hours Lying On the Floor, This Young Lady Finally Succeeded in Getting Home. Back to Work in Two Weeks.

Norfolk, Va.—"For over a year I suffered with a pain in my left side," writes Miss Trix Cooper, of this city.

"One day I was taken sick in the office and, being alone, had to stay.

I walked the floor, lay down on the floor on newspapers, sat in a chair almost doubled, and finally the pain got so severe I could stand it no longer, so I closed the door and went home.

I stayed in bed for two weeks on the flat of my back, and couldn't even move my foot.

Being disgusted with trying doctors' medicines, poor mother, after trying everything that could be thought of, finally came into my room with a bottle of Cardui, the well-known woman's tonic.

Before I had taken one-third of the first bottle I began to improve, and before a week had elapsed, I was able to turn over in bed alone.

I constantly grew better, and in less than two weeks I was at work again.

Cardui certainly did all it claimed for me."

For quick relief from all forms of womanly trouble, Cardui has been found to have no equal.

Are you a sufferer? Cardui is probably the medicine you need. Try it.

The Store That Sells Wooltex

Fashionable Coats for the New Season

The Economy of Good Materials

Suitings made from pure wool not only wear better, feel better and look better than cotton mixed goods, but they are really cheaper in the end.

They last longer.

They don't require pressing so often.

They don't rumple so easily.

They are not so easily hurt by wet and mud.

Wooltex Coats are made from pure wool fabrics. But that's not all. They are made just as well as the best American tailors know how.

That's saying much, for American tailors for women are the best in the world.

As to quality—we need say no more than that every garment bearing the Wooltex label is guaranteed to hold its shape and give satisfactory service for two full seasons.

And more than this—Wooltex styles are the kind that the really stylish, refined, truly well-dressed woman admires.

So there you get a strong combination—superior cloth, best tailoring, good style.

And still one more point—REASONABLE PRICE.

All summed up in the one word—WOOLTEX.

When the French wish particularly to compliment one of their models they say it has "beaucoup de chic" (pronounced bo-koo-de-sheek, and meaning "a lot of style"). This certainly applies to the coat illustrated here. It is a late Paris idea, and the cape collar is a clever feature. You will enjoy seeing this and other new models. Price of this coat, $35.00.

CARLOS MASON IS AGAIN POLICE BOARD CHAIRMAN

Carlos H. Mason was re-elected chairman of the board of police commissioners last evening by a unanimous vote of the other commissioners. This will be the fourth consecutive term that Mr. Mason has served as chairman of the police board, an honor that has never before been conferred on any police commissioner. He is now serving his fifth year as a commissioner, and was first chosen chairman at the beginning of his second year.

When Mr. Mason was first elected on the police board, there was a section of the city charter which prohibited any citizen from succeeding himself as a police commissioner. The city charter had been amended by the state legislature so that no person was allowed to serve more than one term of three years at the solicitation of the city council. This was done after there had been an investigation of the police department, and when it was believed to be for the best interests of the department. So excellent, however, were the services rendered by Carlos Mason as a police commissioner and as chairman of the board that the city council unanimously decided to rescind its own action, and upon its request the state legislature again amended the city charter so a police commissioner could succeed himself. The city government changed its charter in order to retain the services of one man, so valuable a public official had he been.

Mr. Mason's services have not only been highly valued by councilmen, by his co-workers on the board and by citizens generally, but all the men of the department have held him in high esteem, and there is not a member of the police force but who speaks only words of praise for the chairman of the board.

In again taking the chairmanship of the board, Mr. Mason thanked the commissioners for the honor paid him. He said that the police department was in splendid working condition and doing all that was possible to preserve the order and to protect the property and lives of the people. He assured the board members that he would continue to lend his best efforts to see that the police department retained the high standing which had marked its career for several years past.

GEORGIA LAW VIOLATED EVERY TIME POOL GAME IS PLAYED

Are you a "pool shark?"

Every man in Atlanta who plays pool or billiards commits a misdemeanor.

The harmless occupation of whiling away an idle hour in a little game with cues and ivory balls, one of the most delightful and innocent games offered to the average grownup, is under the ban of the law, at least in the way the average man plays it.

In the ordinary pool or billiard game the universal custom is for the man making the lowest score to pay for the game. Everyone does it, from the club man spending lunch hour at his favorite among the many Atlanta clubs, the business man forgetting some of his cares and worries in a quiet game in one of the better class pool and billiard parlors, the young man seeking relaxation after a hard day's studying, to the blackest negro in the lowest dive in town. It is, and has been, the custom from time immemorial for the low man to be "stuck," and in spite of the mandates of the law will probably continue to be for generations to come, yet the law forbids.

"When two men play pool or billiards and the man making the lowest score pays for the game, those men are gaming and should be so prosecuted," says the Georgia law. When Judge Andy Calhoun stated this in the city criminal court Tuesday morning something like consternation reigned in the audience. Every man looked at his neighbor in a nervous manner, for every man there, with the possible exception of the judge, knew himself to be guilty. Were that law to be strictly enforced two-thirds of the male citizens of Atlanta over 21 years of age would now be on trial or convicted of the misdemeanor of gaming. The city of Atlanta would be the richer by many thousands of dollars in fines.

The fact that this custom is contrary to law was brought out in the case of two negroes who were arrested after one had paid for a game after making the low score, though it was alleged that a quarter of a dollar had also been wagered on the game. The evidence did not prove conclusively that the negroes were betting and the lawyer for the defense was feeling somewhat elated. The prosecution did not seem so confident. Both, however, agreed to submit the case without argument.

It was then that the judge, in his charge, quoted the Georgia law on gaming. Every one sat up and took notice. Several members of the jury looked guilty. With that fact ringing in their ears and with positive evidence that the men had played under such an agreement the jury retired, and though under the law the men were guilty, returned in half an hour with a verdict of "not guilty."

One member of the jury said afterward: "There were too many of us who were on the jury guilty to be sending two negroes up for the same offense."

Even the judge admitted that he himself had, until he learned of the law, played under such an agreement, while it is whispered that one of the former chief executives of Georgia and a number of the members of the supreme bench are very fond of a little game of billiards under the same custom. Hereafter they will be forced to be more circumspect, or else will be called upon to reverse a number of decisions and grant a number of pardons for the offense of gaming.

"WONDERFUL FORTUNE TELLER" WILL HELP MRS. ROSEBOOM

"I have just been to the most wonderful fortune teller, who assured me my jewels would be restored very soon. I feel confident that I shall shortly have them in my possession," said Mrs. Helen D. Roseboom, a prominent society woman of Chicago, who lost diamonds and other precious stones to the amount of $2,000 last Monday while stopping at the Georgian Terrace hotel.

"Without asking me a single question about them, she described the gems to me exactly, told where they came from, how long I had had them and the particulars of my discovery that they were missing. I was greatly astonished, for nothing had been in the papers about the theft, if theft it was, up to that time. I have faith in what the woman told me, and believe they will be returned in the near future."

Mrs. Roseboom first missed the jewels Monday afternoon a week ago. They consist of diamonds and a number of stones which have been handed down from generation to generation in her family, and for association's sake are prized by the owner for as much as five times their market value.

STATEMENT IS ISSUED TO HARLEM DIFFICULTY

Harlem, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—The following statement in regard to the situation in the Harlem postoffice has been issued here, under the caption "The Other Side of the Harlem Postoffice Mattel":

"Mr. John M. Barnes, republican referee for the tenth congressional district, who, about twelve years ago, had the present postmaster, Mrs. McMillan, appointed to the postmastership at Harlem, received notice, about the first of October last, that Mrs. McMillan was not satisfactory to the department, and he was asked to name a new postmaster for Harlem. While Mr. Barnes is a republican in national politics and a supporter of Senator Hoke Smith and Representative Hardwick in the state, yet no politics was thought of in selecting a postmaster for Harlem; so, he sent for Mr. J. P. McCord, of Harlem, who was his boyhood friend and a brother-in-law to Governor Brown.

"Mr. Brown explained to Mr. McCord that a change was to be made, and asked Mr. McCord to help in selecting a suitable postmaster. A few days thereafter Mr. McCord submitted the application of his wife, Mrs. Annie C. McCord, and on the 7th of December President Taft sent in the nomination to the senate.

"Senator Hoke Smith and Mr. Hardwick had the nomination held up, whereupon the friends of Mrs. McMillan circulated some three or four petitions in and around Harlem to have Mrs. McMillan retained; but, for some reasons, these petitions did not cure the situation. After this, Mrs. McCord's friends circulated a petition which received so many signatures that Messrs. Smith and Hardwick promised their Harlem constituents that they would withdraw all opposition to Mrs. McCord's confirmation, as there were no charges against Mrs. McCord, and they could not hold it up much longer if they wanted to. But this they failed to do. Meantime, the department informed Mrs. McMillan's friends that she would not be retained; so, everyone thought that, surely, now the case was closed.

"But not so. Within the last few days the McMillan side has signed a petition asking that Miss Willingham, a clerk in the office, be appointed, and there the case stands today. Mrs. McCord has assured Miss Willingham in person of her desire to retain her.

"Mr. McCord is so generally popular that when it became known that his wife was an applicant for the office, friends throughout the district and state began to pour in indorsements. Such men as John T. West and E. W. Hawes, of Thomson; Will Reed and C. H. Stone, of Crawfordville; Judge Horace Holden, of Augusta; Judge Wilkes, ordinary of Lincoln county; A. B. Harnett, of Sharon; J. A. Sturgess, of Glasscock; Dr. Pilcher, of Warrenton; G. A. Ray, of Norwood; P. W. Godfrey, of Covington; Prison Commissioner Davidson, of Atlanta, and many others, nearly all of them Smith-Hardwick supporters. No charge whatever is made against Mrs. McCord, so the case throughout is quite a singular one.

GREAT PROGRESS MADE ON ST. ANDREWS CANAL

Columbus, Ga., March 12.—(Special.) Excellent progress is being made in the digging of the canal which will turn the commerce of the Chattahoochee system of rivers into St. Andrews' bay, one of the largest and deepest harbors on the Gulf of Mexico. The route of the canal is from the Apalachicola river to St. Andrews, and rivers, creeks and laks are being utilized so that the cost is remarkably small, the importance of the undertaking considered. The first of the two channel cuts at Lake Wimico has been completed and work now starts on the second cut. A fleet of government dredges and snag pullers is on the scene, busily engaged on the work.

TO PUBLISH BULLETIN ON STATE FARM SCHOOLS

Athens, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—C. B. Lane, of the United States government's experimental station for the agricultural department at Washington, was in Athens yesterday in consultation with Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture, and Professor Joseph S. Stewart, profesor in charge of secondary education in the university system of the state. Mr. Lane will cooperate with the state college in getting out this year a bulletin report of the work of the twelve agricultural schools in the congressional districts.

The federal government is more and more recognizing the work of the states in their state agricultural colleges and high schools and in Alabama and Wisconsin the department has sent out the reports on their district schools. For the first time the union will know through this federal department report just what the agricultural schools in Georgia are accomplishing.

THRONG AT FUNERAL OF MISS FRIERSON

Athens, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—There was literally not room in Emmanual church this afternon at 4:30 o'clock for the throng who wanted to be present at the funeral services in honor of Miss Sarah Frierson, who was for twenty years librarian of the University of Georgia. There was not room in the chancel for the wealth of flowers which came from scores of homes in Athens and from dozens of the towns and cities of the state and the south, from old "Georgia boys' who loved the motherly woman who helped them in their troubles when they were in school here.

The faculty and students of the University of Georgia attended in a body, and formed the honorary escort. Rev. Troy Beatty, rector of the church of which Miss Frierson was the oldest communicant in oint of consecutive years of membership, assisted by Rev. J. C. Davis, the veteran rector of the church when Miss Frierson was a young woman, read the simple, impressive service of the church. The interment took place in Oconee cemetery, where so many distinguished Georgians sleep. The flowers, which have come from many sections of the south, really covered her resting place like a fragrant blanket, and piled high over the mound.

RUSSELL ARRESTED FOR GOULD'S INJURY

Rome, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Accused of assault with intent to murder Captain George Gould, a well-known steamboat man, Clarence Russell, a young white man, was arrested today and afterwards released on $500 bond.

Captain Gould was found Saturday night on the Alabama road badly wounded and in a precarious condition. Russell was arrested at the instance of A. H. Gould, son of the injured man, who claims that Russell ran over him with a wagon. Russell denied the charge, saying that when he passed the place where Captain Gould was found his horses stumbled as if they were stepping over a man.

BACON INTRODUCES BILL FOR DR. GEO. F. PAYNE

Washington, March 12.—(Special.)—Senator Bacon has introduced in the senate a bill to improve the status of pharmacists in the regular army, also of the national guard when it is on an army footing.

The bill was introduced at the request of Dr. George F. Payne, of Atlanta, formerly state chemist and now chairman of the committee on military affairs of the American Pharmaceutical Association, who says the bill is of great interest to pharmacists generally. Although framed by the association, the bill is along the lines of the recommendation made by the surgeon general. It proposes to designate the hospital corps hereafter as the medical corps and to pay the men salaries somewhat commensurate with the work they perform.

ATLANTA ASKED TO JOIN INTERNATIONAL CHMBER

Secretary Cooper, of the Atlanta Chamber of commerce, is in receipt of a letter from the international congress of chambers of commerce inviting the local association to join the congress next September when its first meeting in America will be held at Boston.

President Taft and other high officials of the United States, as well as the officials of many foreign countries, will be present and take part in the meetings which will be held from September 24 to 28, inclusive.

There is now a resolution before the United States congress to recognize the international association officially. It is expected that the meeting in Boston next fall will be the largest and most important ever held in this country. Secretary Cooper will lay the matter before the directors in the near future.

SIXTY HOUSTON BOYS ORGANIZE CORN CLUB

Perry, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—The Boys' Corn club of Houston county has been organized with a membership of sixty-one. W. C. Watson, of Wellston, was elected president, it being thought that a man of live interest in the work would accomplish more than a boy at the head of the organization. Frank Stubbs and Felix Dorsett were elected first and second vice presidents and Early Cheek, secretary and treasurer.

On the day of organization, Mr. James, one of the men sent out by the government, was present and aided in the organization. W. C. Lems, county agent of demonstration work, was present and made a nice talk to the boys. Handsome prizes will be awarded in October to be offered by residents of the county and the boys will also compete for prizes offered at other places. The boys made a most excellent record in 1911, some of them producing more than one hundred bushels of corn per acre.

WHEN STRICKEN AS JUROR, ROOSEVELT WAS DISPLEASED

Mineola, L. I., March 12.—Theodore Roosevelt was drawn as juror No. 7 today in the damage suit of Michael Carmody against the New York Central railroad, but was quickly eliminated by John J. Graham, counsel for the plaintiff, who challenged the colonel peremptorily.

Both of Carmody's legs were cut off and at a previous trial he obtained a verdict of $30,000 against the railroad. The appellate division reversed the judgment and ordered a new trial.

Colonel Roosevelt was plainly disconcerted when he stepped down from the box.

"I am ready to do my duty," he said, "but I don't see why I should have to come here day after day if nobody wants me as a juror. I don't see what the boy (Carmody) was afraid of, for I certainly would have given him a square deal."

Mr. Graham had approached the colonel so quietly that few were aware Roosevelt had been challenged.

"You're a busy man, Colonel Roosevelt," the lawyer said, "and we will excuse you."

Explaining later why he had challenged the colonel the lawyer said:

"He is a busy man and I think he would be conferring a greater favor on humanity by serving it in other ways than by sitting in this case for three or four days."

WOMEN IN CLASH OVER SUFFRAGE

Contesting Bands Mix in the Halls of the New Jersey Capitol.

Trenton, N. J., March 12.—Contesting bands of women swarmed through the New Jersey capitol today, one throng demanding equal suffrage, the other dissenting. They came to argue out a resolution aiming to so amend the state constitution as to give women the right to vote.

The vote-seekers were led by Mrs. Clara Laddy, chief of the New Jersey suffragettes. The contending sisters had as leader Mrs. Clara Fisher, of Trenton. Mrs. Fisher operates an anvil factory.

One of the pro speakers was Miss Malinda Scott, of Newark. She said she represented the organized hat trimmers of her home city, and declared women needed a voice in the laws for the benefit of their own industrial condition.

Mrs. Charlotte Gilman, of Newark, said women needed the ballot in order to protect the sex in the matter of legislation. She said as long as women were kept from the polls there was no complete democracy in America.

The opposition had plenty of argumentative amunition. Miss Bronson, formerly of the federal bureau of labor, said that the laws of the nation—where they discriminate—are all in favor of the woman. By this she essayed to prove that the wrongs of women are not due to their lack of the ballot right. Then she declared that, while husbands are compelled to pay the debts of extravagant wives, yet wives are not compelled to settle up for ne-er-do-well husbands.

WILLIAM J. DAVIS DIES SUDDENLY IN MARIETTA

Marietta, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—William J. Davis, an old citizen of Cobb, died at his home in Marietta suddenly this morning at 6 o'clock. He had risen in usual health so far as known, but was found a short while afterwards by the family, lying on the floor in the hall of his residence.

His funeral and burial will take place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. He leaves eight children and his wife. He was 66 years old and was a prominent farmer near McLand, this county, up to four years ago, when he moved here.

JURY WILL PASS ON THE PACKERS

U. S. Judge Carpenter Refuses to Discharge the Meat Kings.

Chicago, March 12.—United States District Judge George A. Carpenter today refused to take from the jury the case of the ten packers, charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law and discharge the defendants. The effect of the ruling is that the jury will decide whether the defendants are guilty or innocent.

"The arguments of defendats' counsel involve a dissection of the evidence as a basis," said Judge Carpenter. "In my view this is not sound in a charge of conspiracy depending upon circumstantial evidence.

"Taken apart, any complicated machine is harmless and useful only as junk. Assemble the parts and you may have a powerful devise to accomplish the design of its makers.

"It is absurd to suppose that the directing minds of the guiding hands of these enormous businesses did not know what was being done."

The court also overruled the motion of the defense to strike from the record all evidence bearing on matters prior to the statutory period covered by the indictment and the motion of the defense to exclude from the case three memorandums of margins introduced several weeks ago by the government for the purpose of connecting J. Ogden Armour and Thomas J. Connors, two of the defendants, with personal participation in the exchange of business information in restraint of trade.

After Judge Carpenter had read his decisions Attorney M. W. Borders presented a motion that Edward Norris and Louis H. Heymann, two of the defendants, be discharged on the ground that the legations in the indictment were at variance with the facts in that it mentioned the Morris & Co., of New Jersey, with being in the fresh meat business, while as a matter of fact Morris & Co., of Maine, were the corporation handling this branch of the business.

The matter will be disposed of by the court tomorrow morning.

The packers, it is expected, will begin their defense tomorrow and may take six weeks in presenting their

London, March 12.—The estimated expenditure on the British navy during the coming year, according to the report of the government laid on the table of the house of commons this afternoon, is $220,427,000, a decrease of $1,535,000 on the amount spent last year.

CHARLES L. DEARDOFF DIES IN FLORIDA HOME

News was received in Atlanta yesterday of the death of Charles L. Deardorff, of St. Augustine, Fla., after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Deardorff was superintendent of The Record Company of that city, and was connected with the Showalter Printing Company of Dalton, Ga., for several years before going to Florida to take charge of The Record Company's plant.

The business was comparatively a small one when Mr. Deardorff took charge, but under his direction it had a remarkable success, and is now easily the best equipped plant in the state of Florida, and turns out a very large volume of business each year.

Mr. Deardorff was well known in Atlanta, and had many friends here, who will regret to learn of his death. He is survived by his wife and two daughters, the older of whom was married on Christmas day, 1911(while the younger daughter is now attending school in Ohio.

The body will be taken to Springfield, Ohio, for burial, this being his home originally.

GOLD-HEADED CANE GIVEN TO ADAMSON

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 12.—(Special.)—Representative Adamson today received from the jewelers a handsome gold-headed cane, presented to him by the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, as a souvenir of the trip made last December to the canal zone.

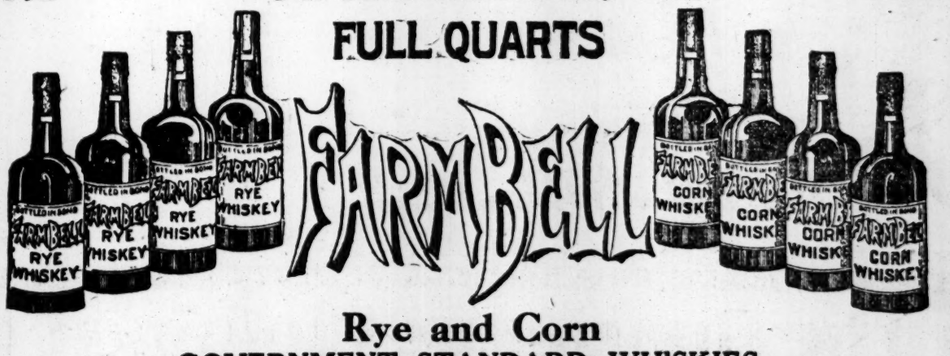

The wood of the cane is from a log found 56 feet below sea level when making excavations for the foundations of the Gatun locks, and was presented by Colonel William L. Sibert, division engineer in charge. The gold-head was contributed by the members of the party who made the tour of inspection. Although the cane was constructively presented on board the steamboat Cristobal returning to the United States, its actual delivery did not take place until today, as several weeks were required to dress the wood and have it capped.

Accompanying the cane was a set of resolutions signed by each member of the Panama party, testifying to the courtesy, industry and impartiality of Judge Adamson, the chairman of the committee.

BIG RATE HEARING WILL BE HELD IN ATLANTA

The Atlanta freight bureau some time ago filed two complaints with the interstate commerce commission in regard to railroad rates to and from Atlanta and certain eastern and western cities. Word was received yesterday that Commissioner Meyer, of the commission, would be here on April 22, to hear the testimony of the complaints. In a majority of cases where complaints are filed with the commission the hearings are scheduled for Washington, D. C., and all interested parties have to make the trip there. In this case, however, Commissioner Meyers has agreed to have the hearing in Atlanta. He will probably take up other complaints while in the south.

SALE PILES UP FOR GRAND OPERA

Steady Stream of Purchasers of Season Tickets All Day.

More than $3,500 was added yesterday to the sales of season tickets for Atlanta's grand opera season of 1912.

The exact total up to Monday night was $25,132.50; the total at the close of last night's sales was $28,634.

There was a steady stream of purchasers of season tickets all day Monday in the Cable Piano Company's store on Broad street, and Phillips & Crew's, on Pryor.

Much gratification is expressed over the liberal scale of prices this year, and the indications are that buying will be on a larger scale than ever. The record to date leaves no doubt of that.

Out-of-town mail orders will be given prompt attention by Treasurer C. B. Bidwell, Fourth National Bank building, promptly on receipt. Orders for season tickets will be given first consideration and single seats later. All orders must be accompanied by check or money order.

WAGE CAMPAIGN AGAINST FILTH

Inspectors Scour Negro Section and Make Nine Cases.

Following The Constitution's suggestion for a "clean-up" before the summer days come, when sickness and disease will be quickly caused by any dirt and filth exposed to the air, the board of health has gotten right behind the city inspectors and a vigorous campaign is being waged already.

Inspector J. E. Simpson was on the job yesterday throughout the negro section in teh region of Greensferry avenue and Larkin street, not far from two negro colleges. As a result nine cases for various offenses against cleanliness were docketed for trial today.

"Conditions are terrible; they make no effort to clean up; there are no garbage cans; filth is scattered around on the premises, and when we get after them they sass us back and refuse to do anything," said the inspector. "All we can do is to try the best we can and to bring them into court when they won't clean up."

These cases were docketed for violations of sections 1385, 1387 and 1389, referring to filthy premises, manure on the premises and garbage cans. The names entered on the docket are Sallie Garner, Lula Jenkins, Mamie Walker, Susie Hollis, Mamie James, Lizzie Hill, George Howard, Rosa Stone, I. P. Moyes and Ben Berger. All of them live on Greensferry avenue except one, who lives on Larkin street, in the same vicinity.

QUEEN'S WAR MEDAL FOR SAVANNAH MAN

Savannah, Ga., March 12.—F. W. Spalding, a Savannah man, was today presented by the British consul with the late Queen Victoria's war medal, with clasps for the Orange Free State, and for the siege of Kimberly. Spalding was a corporal in the Diamond Field Horse during the Boer war.

GOMPERS, MORRISON AND MITCHELL SCORED

Washington, March 12.—Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, on trial in the district supreme court, today were severely scored by Attorney J. J. Darlington, of the prosecutor's committee, who characterized their alleged violation of the Buck Stove and Range injunction as "flagrant, defiant and conscious."

Mr. Darlington declared the case should have been entitled "law against anarchy," because of the position taken by the respondents that they would follow their own inclinations, despite the opinions of the tribunals created by the constitution to interpret the law.

DO STUNTED BRAINS GO WITH SMALL FEET? TINY-PEDALED STARS OF STAGE CAN'T SEE IT

I am happy to know that Chicago women have the reputation for having big feet. We must live up to it and cultivate the growth of our feet. Big feet are an indication of an amiable temperament. Big intellects do not go with small feet.. Cultivate large feet and the intellect will grow automatically.—Dr. Helen B. Kellogg in a speech at Chicago.

New York, March 12.—(Special.)—Miss Marie Doro, the dainty theatrical star, rejects as ridiculous the statement made by Dr. Helen Kellogg in a speech to the Kilo Association of Chicago that small feet are indicative of a stunted intellect.

"Cultivate large feet, and the brain will grow automatically, eh?" repeated the little woman. "Never! Believe me, if all the growth is in the feet, there won't be any in the brain. Why, if large feet meant that a person had brains, all a business man would do when he wanted to engage a stenographer would be to look at her feet."

Miss Doro was quite wrought up about it. She wears a No. 1.

Miss Sally Fisher, actress, whose feet slip easily into a 2½ shoe, said she had read the doctor's words, too.

"Don't you believe it!" she explained. "The woman is absurd. Doesn't it require brains to be an actress? I guess yes! But do actresses have big feet? I guess not! Why, we would all lose our jobs if we had big feet, and what chance would the poor little chorus girl have of getting a millionaire husband if she had large pedal extremities?"

"I'll bet if the woman doctor didn't have big feet herself she wouldn't be saying a thing like that," said Miss Stella Mayhew, of the Winter Garden. "I've got small feet—don't laugh, I have, size 3, look at them—and if it's the case that women with small feet don't have any brains, how in the world does it happen that I am getting by?"

Miss Bessie Clayton, dancer, whose tootsies are insured, and who wears No. 1 shoe in the street, said: "I'll bet Dr. Kellogg $2,000 that I can get twenty women with small feet who have more brains in their little toes than are in the heads of any twenty women with large feet that this doctor can produce. Look at Sarah Bernhardt! She has terribly small feet, as everyone knows who has seen her act. Yet I suppose this Chicago doctor would say that Sarah's a boob. There's only one place for women with big feet, and that's behind a counter where they can't be seen."

FIRST BAPTIST REVIVAL DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Despite the inclement weather, a large number of the members of the First Baptist church attended the revival services both yesterday afternoon and at night. Short talks were made by many church members at the opening of Tuesday night's service, and all indicated great interest in the meeting.

The pastor, Dr. Charles W. Daniel, preached on the subject of "Salvation." He declared that men are not born or educated into salvation, but are saved by faith. He urged his hearers to press forward and engage in Christian service.

Dr. Daniel announced that Wednesday night Dr. W. B. Riley will preach his first sermon of a series during the revival services. There will be daily services at 3 and 8 p. m.

BLIND BROTHER GOES TO JAIL WITH BUTLER

E. J. Robinson, the dishonest negro butler who robbed the Washington home, 200 Myrtle street, of silverware and Oriental rugs valued at $2,500, will not spend his days in jail alone. His blind brother pleaded with Chief Beavers for permission to accompany his wayward brother to jail, and yesterday afternoon when Judge Broyles remanded Robinson back to jail under a bond of $2,000 the blind brother went with him.

CHIEF LANFORD ANXIOUS TO GET "PACK" MATHIS

"Pack" Mathis has not been freed. Chief Lanford, of the local detective bureau, stated last night that he was still in hpoes of raising the $300 necessary to bring the negro burglar back to Atlanta. Mathis is held by the police of Spokane in connection with a number of daring robberies committed in this city. "There is still a possibility of raising the money," declared the detective chief. "Mathis' bondsman is trying to get the money to pay the expenses of the person who is sent to get the prisoner."

MADISON COUNTY HAS FIRST ASSAULT CASE

Athens, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—An unusual case has just been concluded in the Madison county superior court at Danielsville, in which W. O. Huff sued J. P. Gholston for damages for injuries received in an alleged assault committed upon the person of Huff by Gholston and his two sons. Ten thousand dollars was asked for, and the jury rendered a verdict for $4,250 and costs. The counsel for the defendant has made a motion for a new trial. This is the first time in Madison county that there has been a suit for damages for an assault and battery. Teh parties are among the most prominent in the county.

HE RUNS FOR MAYOR AGAINST SON-IN-LAW

West Point, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—A very interesting situation has developed in the mayoralty race in the sister city—Lanett, Ala.

Some weeks ago J. W. Burdette announced his candidacy. Recently, in response to the petition of a large number of voters, R. W. Jennings, Mr. Burdette's son-in-law, entered the race.

It was expected Mr. Burdette would come down in favor of his son-in-law, but he has declared he will not.

"I was in the field first," says Mr. Burdette, "and I see no reason for withdrawing. I expect to challenge my opponents to a joint debate and let the people know what I stand for."

The election takes place in August and a hot campaign is expected.

FEELING SWINGS FOR UNDERWOOD

House Leader Is Choice of Northeast Georgia for President.

Toccoa, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—Never in the history of this section of the state has the race for the nomination of a democratic candidate created so much interest. It is believed by the people here that the state democratic executive committe will call a primary in which candidates for president will be voted for directly, and that is what democrats want.

Several months ago Wilson sentiment in northeast Georgia was much stronger than at present. Whatever strength Mr. Wilson had has to a large extent dissipated, and now Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, is the choice.

It is generally conceded that a southern man ought to be nominated, and that none is so fit as Congressman Underwood.

PRISONERS BELIEVE MRS. GRACE INNOCENT

Hold-up men, forgers and liquor sellers, awaiting trial in the jail or held there before beginning service of their sentences, yesterday sent to Mrs. Eugene H. Grace, society woman charged with shooting her husband, a statement of their belief in her innocence and conveying their sympathy in her distress.

"Madam: We are prisoners, like yourself. Some of us are innocent, as we believe you to be.

"We cannot help you, but we hope you beat them to it. (Signed) A. R. Saffold, W. B. Norton, C. F. Shaw, John D. Rose, William Williams, Luther Stroud, Will Chastine, A. J. Fitzgibbon, M. C. Stephens, George Poulos, D. R. Buchanan, R. J. Cline, H. L. Hughes, H. H. Allgood, Stephen Callahan, L. R. Davis."

DYING DECLARATION ADMISSIBLE IN COURT

"The dying declaration of any person, taken in the article of death, is admissible as evidence in the prosecution of homicide."—Supreme court of Georgia.

The fact that there is no qualification of the above statement made by the supreme court of Georgia in a decision handed down yesterday in the case of Virgil Josey, of Pike county, convicted of murder and sentenced by Judge R. T. Daniel to life imprisonment, is taken to mean that should Eugene H. Grace die as the result of the pistol wound he received, his dying declaration will be admissible in evidence in the prosecution of his wife, notwithstanding the general law which prohibits a husband from testifying for or against his wife.

Josey was convicted of the murder of his wife, and one of the points in the case brought up on appeal was as to the admissibility of his wife's dying staement as evidence against him. In order to admit such a statement, it is not necessary, the court states, that the person making the statement shall admit that he or she is dying; but if is sufficient if he or she were in a dying condition and the circumstances were such as to indicate that she had knowledge that it was so.

BROTHERS DISAGREE OVER CASE OF NEGRO

A house divided and brothers made enemies because of a negro servant were features brought out in the city criminal court Tuesday morning when Paul Johnson, a negro, was put on trial for attempted assault and battery.

The two white brothers were Robert Carroll, a prominent farmer residing near Atlanta, and Marion Carroll, a county policeman, who lives next door to his brother Robert. The negro was Robert Carroll's man-of-all-work and he was on trial for threatening to shoot his own father-in-law. Mr. Carroll appeared to testify to the negro's good character, while Policeman Carroll was acting as prosecutor.

That feeling was running high between the two white brothers was evident from the first, and when the evidence seemed to show that the quarrel between Johnson and his father-in-law was merely a family difficulty Policeman Carroll asked that he might be permitted to make a statement in regard to certain points in the testimony.

He made a short statement, and when this was ended pointed his finger at his brother, who was smiling, and cried:

"And judge, he told me that if I brought this nigger to court he would get my job."

He afterward said that his brother told him that he would lose his place as county policeman if the case was not dropped.

Robert Carroll merely smiled, and though the two brothers had a second discussion in the hall after the negro was freed, nothing more was done. They live next door to one another and have been good friends.

HUDSON TALKS TO U. S. FIELD AGENTS

Their Work Has Been of Incalculable Value to the State, He Declares.

Thomas G. Hudson, commissioner of agriculture, but whose resignation has been tendered, to go into effect at an early date, was the principal speaker Tuesday morning at the closing session of the meeting of thirty government field agents which has been in session at the chamber of commerce headquarters for two days. All of the men at the meeting were either United States farm demonstration agents or connected with the state college of agriculture.

Mr. Hudson declared that during his term of office he had found that the work being done by the state college and the demonstration agents was almost incalculable, and he predicted a continuance of this success.

Prof. J. Hill Campbell, the "corn club man," who is now the official representative of the government in this work, also spoke during the morning. He announced the appointment of the following field agents:

Dr. William Bradford, Cedartown; J. K. Giles, Atlanta; C. M. James, Columbus; J. W. Hendricks, Savannah; G. V. Cunningham, Tifton.

The semi-annual meeting of the field agents in northeast Georgia will occur at Toccoa Wednesday afternoon and on Thursday a meeting for the south Georgia workers will be held at Savannah.

SATURATED WITH OIL AND THEN SET AFIRE

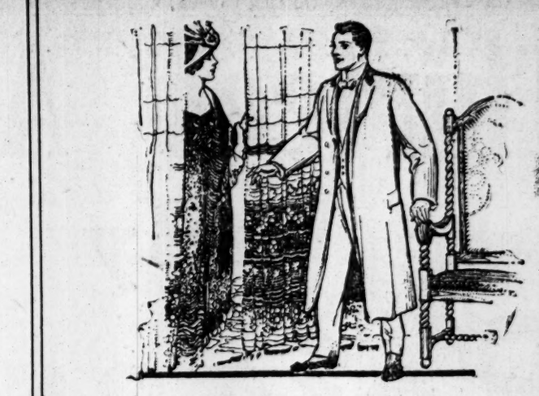

Valdosta, Ga., March 12.—(Special.)—George Thomas, a negro watchman at the mill of the Fender Lumber Company at this city, was burned to death last night in a mysterious way. Thomas went to his work at the usual hour last night and at shortly after 12 o'clock staggered into his home nearby with practically all of his clothing burned off. He was able to speak a few words before becoming unconscious and told his wife that while asleep somebody had set his clothing on fire after saturating his person with kerosene oil.

The odor of the oil was very perceptible on the few shreds of clothing that remained on his person. There was no fire in the mill furnace, which adds to the strength of the man's story that he was saturated with oil, then set on fire.

JUST 29 MORE DAYS

Edited by DICK JEMISON

Whiffs

We Pity Him.

NAT DEWEY, the Chattanooga heavyweight, meets Joe Jeanette at New York tonight. The Chattanooga dinge has a high opinion of himself as the result of staying eight rounds with Jeanette at Chattanooga recently; but he did so only by walking out of his corner with both hands to his face, and either keeping covered or hanging on all throughout the scrap. If he tries to mix it with Jeanette tonight there will be a sadder and much wiser dinge returning to the Mountain city.

Did Not Dodge.

CLARENCE ENGLISH is and always has been ready to take on any 142-pounder before either of the Atlanta clubs. The article in one of the afternoon papers in which English is said to have dodged the men suggested to him is all bunk. No names were ever suggested to him. He has always been ready and willing to come here. The shoe is on the other foot. The other fellows did not want any of English's game.

Is Going Home.

FRANK WHITNEY, the grand little lightweight who has been fighting the best of them here since he arrived in Atlanta, leaves tonight for his home in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Mrs. Whitney is critically ill and the little scrapper has heard the call of home, sweet home.

Wants Job Here.

PAUL STOWERS, the Georgia boy who twirled for clubs in the American League and American Association, is a free agent and wants a try-out with the Atlanta club during the coming season.

Busy Reporting.

THE SOUTHERN League ball clubs are busy now, or rather, the eight managers are busy getting their players reservations, for the reporting season has arrived. The players of all the clubs are beginning to drift in rapidly, and by the end of the week every member of every one of the clubs will be on hand working out.

Time Is Short.

29 DAYS more. Count 'em. There are just that many more days from today until the umpire calls out the batteries for today's game are: For Atlanta, ——; for Chattanooga. ——. April 11 is the opening day, or to be exact, just four weeks from tomorrow.

How the Mighty Fall.

AL ORTH, the former star on the New York American League hurling staff, has dropped lower and lower. Reports now are to the effect that the hurler is slated for an umpire's berth with the Virginia League during the coming season.

Amateurs Organize.

THE CITY LEAGUE, of Atlanta, composed of the fastest amateurs in the city, will permanently organize tonight with a six and possibly an eight-club circuit. The teams now in the league are Georgia Railway, Southern Shops, White Caps, Southern Bell and Marist College, The A., B. & A. and Inman Yards teams are requested to be at the meeting tonight, and any others that may want to enter.

Poor Old Abe.

ABE ATTELL is always getting himself in hot water, apparently. First he is caught stalling at New York. Then he is accused of forging Jim Jeffries' name to a telegram, and now he is said to have tried to "frame" the bout with Tommy Murphy recently. Wonder what kind of a stunt he will pull next.

Will Help Team.

CHARLES DANIELS, the "Human Fish" and the world's champion swimmer at short distances, is planning to join the American athletes in their games at Stockholm. If Daniels really does go with the team, Americans are assured of a few more points.

SOUTHERN NEGRO MEETS JEANETTE

Nat Dewey, the Chattanooga dinge, is slated to meet Joe Jeanette before the Long Acre Athletic Association at New York tonight over the ten-round route. The two men fought a draw at Chattanooga recently.

Hogan v. Cross.

One-Round Hogan and Leach Cross, lightweights, will battle before the Madison Athletic Club at New York tonight over the ten-round limit.

Cards in Jackson.

Jackson, Miss., March 12.—The St. Louis National baseball team with Manager Roger Bresnahan arrived here from Jackson, Tenn., at 3 o'clock this morning and will start active work at once. There are thirty-seven in the party. Gymnasiums at Milsaps college and the Y. M. C. A. have been offered for the use of the players, who, according to present plans, will remain here for practice until the opening of the National League season.

Tigers Reporting.

Monroe, La., March 12—Second Baseman Delehanty, of the Detroit Americans, arrived here yesterday from Hot Springs and joined his teammates here for spring practice. He was followed last night by Outfielder Jones, Third Baseman Moriarity, Pitcher Summers and Catcher Casey, all coming from Detroit. Crawford, Bush, Donovan, Mullin, O'Leary and Stanage are expected to arrive this week. All are at Hot Springs except Cobb, who is to join the team on its way home. Bad weather has interfered materially with the practice and the players are not in as good condition as this time last year.

Sun Spurs Yanks To Great Deeds At Ponce Park

Manager Harry Wolverton, of the New York Americans, put his players through a hard workout Tuesday afternoon. Promptly at 2:30 o'clock, when he and his men were scheduled to take the field for practice, the sun broke through the clouds, sending joy throughout the entire Yankee camp.

Although the clouds continued to obscure the face of the sun at intervals during the entire afternoon practice, Old Sol slipped through with his rays, drying out the rain-sogged field and sending warmth through the stiffened muscles of the players.

It was the most strenuous workout that the Yankees have yet indulged in. There is not a lazy bone in Harry Wolverton's body, and he kept at it as long as the players would keep up with him. When he said enough for the day, there were only half of the number of playersstill on the lot.

But this was not by reason of any shirking. Some of the veterans reported in excellent condition and do not need as much work as the remainder of the members of the club. Harry Wolter, Russell Ford, Jim Vaughan, Gabby Street and others can step right into a regular game at this writing if it were necessary.

Manager Wolverton may play the Atlanta team on either Friday or Saturday, or maybe on both days. It all depends on one thing—the weather. If Old Sol has a mind to shine during both practices today and Thursday, then on Friday and Saturday the Yankees will try conclusions with Memphill's braves.

Groundkeeper Gillespie, of the Atlanta team, asks but a couple of days of sunshine, and he will have the playing field ready for a regular nine-inning game. Indications Tuesday afternoon were that he would have the good weather to work with today.

Outfielder Cree and Catcher Sweeney are yet among the missing. When either will report is not definitely known.

ATTELL DENIES "FIXING" CHARGES

San Francisco, March 12.—Charges that Abe Attell tried to fix his fight with "Harlem Tommy" Murphy here last Saturday were denied by Attell today.

Attell explained having called James Buckley, Murphy's manager, to his dressing room as follows:

"Just before I entered the dressing room I remember I hadn't understood with what kind of tape we were to bandage our hands. I had Buckley called and he told me we were to use regular electrician's tape."

ENGLISH TO BOX BRONSON APRIL 2

Clarence English, the welterweight champion of the south, has grabbed a warm assignment for himself on April 2. To prove that he does not care how good they are or what their reputations may be, he has signed articles to box Ray Bronson before the Robidou Athletic Club at St. Joseph, Mo., on that date.

English is anxious and willing to appear here before the Gate City Club on March 19. He writes: "I will fight any one that they can get for me at 142 pounds at 5 o'clock on March 19. Let me know as soon as possible if the match is on. I am in grand shape."

TURNSTILES WILL DECIDE TIME

New York, March 12.—John T. Brush, president of the New York National League baseball club, in order to settle the agitation for starting baseball games at an earlier hour, has determined to install a double set of turnstiles, one to be marked 3:30 o'clock and other set 4 o'clock. During the first series the spectators will have an opportunity to express their preference by passing through one or the other turnstile. In this way Mr. Brush hopes to ascertain the true feeling of the club's patrons with respect to an earlier opening hour.

MORROW AND FAGAN HAVE BEEN MATCHED

Los Angeles, March 12.—Howard Morrow, of Syracuse, N. Y., who has been under the tutelage of Tommy Ryan is the latest entry in the middleweight elimination tournament of San Francisco and Los Angeles promoters. Promoter T. J. McCarty, of Los Angeles, has matched Morrow and Bert Fagan, of San Francisco, for a twenty-round bout at the Vernon Arena, April 13. Fagan recently fought a twenty-round draw with Jack Herrick, of Chicago.

FRAYNE AND BURNS ARE MATCHED BY GRANEY.

San Francisco, March 12.—Promoter Eddie Graney announced today that he had matched Johnny Frayne, the San Francisco lightweight, and Frankie Burns, of Oakland, for a twenty-round fight, the night of March 29. The men will weigh in at 135 pounds at 3 o'clock.

WHITE SOX SUCCEED ATHLETICS AT WACO

San Antonio, Texas, March 12.—When the Philadelphia American League team abandons its training quarters here March 20, the Chicago Americans probably will move to San Antonio from Waco, where they began their spring practice.

President Comiskey, of the Chicago club, who came to San Antonio today, made this announcement tonight. Adverse weather conditions at Waco has interfered with baseball practice in that city.

In an exhibition game today the San Antonio team, of the Texas League, outhit the Philadelphia players and won, 10 to 9. Jensen, Gipe and Tong, recruits, pitched for Philadelphia and allowed 15 hits, while Rogers and McGraner, for San Antonio, allowed only eight. With the exception of the pitchers, regulars made up the major league team.

McHenry Bests Richie.

Charleston, S. C., March 12.—Jack McHenry, of Lima, Ohio, was awarded the decision over Jack Richie, of New York, at the close of a ten-round bout here tonight. McHenry outpointed Richie at every stage, and the latter's gameness was all that saved him from a knock-out.

MILLER, ALPERMAN AND BAILEY JOINED CRACKERS ON TUESDAY; JOHNS HAS SIGNED HIS CONTRACT

By Dick Jemison.

The hard rain of Monday night prevented the Atlanta Crackers from engaging in any fast work-out Tuesday morning. But, in the afternoon, they got to work in real earnest, with a little sunshine.

Catcher Charles I. Miller, the big backstop, who is confident of his ability to make the regular catching staff of the Crackers for the coming season was Tuesday's arrival. Charley looks to be "right," too.

Miller was one of the best catchers in the Southern League, when a member of the Montgomery team a couple of seasons ago. He was touted strongly for the 1911 team, but adversity jumped in his way, just like it did, practically, for every other Atlanta player last season. He was going at a great clip in the sprig, when he broke his thumb. From that time until he was sold to Louisville for Shortstop Buemiller everything went against him. With Louisville, he did very well, hitting .278.

But Charley is nothing, if not confident, this season. "I'm in grand trim, and all I want is a chance to show what I can do." He says, "My arm is feeling fine; I feel splendidly in other respects, and the other fellows are going to have to travel at a mighty fast clop to beat me out of a regular berth."

Alperman on Hand.

C. A. "Whitey" Alperman, the veteran infielder who played with Brooklyn a few years ago, and last season with Rochester, was a Tuesday night arrival. Alperman wired Manager Hemphill Tuesday morning that he would arrive at 9:50. From his telegram, some got the impression that he meant a. m., but it was late at night when he really did get here. He will have his first work-out this morning.

Harry Bailey, the speed marvel from Newark, in the Eastern League, got in shortly after noon. He looks to be in grand shape. We have his word for it that he really is.

Al O'Dell, the big infielder of the 1911 squad, has not yet reported. He has agreed to the club's terms, but, owing to the death of Mrs. O'Dell's father, it will be a few days more before he reports.

Harold Johns signed his contract Tuesday. He is working out daily with the rest of the members of the team at Ponce de Leon. Harold expects to have a good year. "I'm going to show Manager Hemphill and the fans that I am far from being all in," he said Tuesday afternoon. "I never felt better in my life, and the other left-handers in the league are going to step some to beat me. I believe I have shaken my hoodoo."

Four Others to Report.

This leaves unaccounted for four other players. They are expected hourly. It would not be surprising to see three of them get in here in a bunch today.

R. Gould Menafee, the young receiver who received a short try-out with the Crackers in 1911, and was then shipped to Charleston, in the South Atlantic League, will probably be the last of the players to report. He is going to college, and has been given permission to finish his course before he arrives.

Infielder Warner, the young semi-pro from Laurel, Md.; First Baseman Phelan, with Macon, in the Sally League, and Pitcher Martin Walsh, the pitcher-outfielder from the Virginia League, and younger brother of Big Ed Walsh, of the Chicago White Sox, are expected to arrive here on most any train today.

Game With Yanks Saturday.

The Yankees and Crackers will tie up in a regular nine-inning game on Saturday, Managers Wolverton and Hemphill having reached that decision Tuesday afternoon. Th proposed game scheduled for Friday has been called off.

For the interest of local fans, the batting averages for 1911 of the players who are trying for positions on the team, giving the averages as a method of comparison at each position, the averages of the semi-pros not being obtainable, are given herewith.

November 30, Navy.

"LINK" STICKNEY CLAIMS BRIDE

Selma Manager Elopes With Miss Annie M. Camp.

A pretty little romance was culminated in Atlanta yesterday when Miss Annie M. Camp, of Winder, Ga., a student at Brenau college, became Mrs. H. Lindsay tStickney. Her husband, who is known to baseball men at "Link," is manager of the Selma, Ala., club in the Southeastern League.

The young couple had been engaged for quite a while, but believing that if the nuptials were performed before the season started it would bring good luck to the pennant winning prospects of his team this year, they decided to get married right away, instead of waiting for her graduation.

Mr. and Mrs. Stickney left for the groom's home in Montgomery last night. The groom is a younger brother of Biss Stickney, business manager of the Montgomery club.

MARIST COLLEGE LOST IN THE RIFLE LEAGUE

Washington, March 12.—Columbia, Tenn., Military Academy finished fourth and Marist college, of Atlanta, Ga., last in the Military Rifle Shooting League's tournament, final results of which were announced today. Wentworth Military Academy, of Lexington, Mo., was declared winner with an average score of 905.4 and nine straight victories.

The indoor rifle championship of America was won by the Bridgeport, Conn., team, establishing a new national record of 936 out of a possible 1,000 points in its last week's match.

Fifteen Turtles Arrive.

Memphis, Tenn., March 12.—(Special.)—With the arrival today of Outfielder Schweitzer and Second Baseman Moulton, secured from St. Louis Americans, and Pitcher Clarke, secured from Waterloo, fifteen Turtles are now in the local mire. It was another day of total idleness, and from the present outlook there is some doubt whether the first scheduled exhibition game with Brooklyn Saturday will be played.

Homer Off Matty.

Marlin, Texas, March 12.—The first home run knocked off Christy Mathewson's delivery this season was driven out yesterday afternoon here by Murray in a seven-inning game between the two New York National League teams. The regulars won, 7 to 6. Mathewson was one of the pitchers for the colts. The weather continued good today and the men were worked hard.

OWEN MORAN WON OVER PAL MOORE

The Bout Was Very Hard Fought and Was Close.

New York, March 12.—In the third meeting between the two lightweights, Owen Moran, of England, and Pal Moore, of Philadelphia, fought ten rounds here tonight, the Englishman having the better of the contest. The bout was hard fought and close, however, and the popular victory acorded to Moran was hardly more decisive than the other two close bouts. Moore had about four pounds the better of Moran in weight, but the Englishman did most of the forcing and in a majority of the rounds kept Moore covering.

The Philadelphian appeared to poorer advantage than in previous fights here.

PLANS MADE TO FIGHT HIGH COST OF LIVING

Chicago, March 12.—Two plans for battling against the high cost of living were evolved in Chicago last night. Both embrace plans for doing away with the middleman and both promise a marked saving for those joining in the enterprise.

One plan was put forth by the Chicago Postal Clerks' Union, numbering 1,500 men, and the other by fifty or more householders in Hyde Park and Woodlawn who held a meeting to discuss ways and means of beginning the work at once.

Co-operative buying is the plan of the postal clerks. They say they demonstrated the fact of great saving at Christmas time by the purchase of 3,500 pounds of candy.

It was a grade that retails at sixty cents a pound. The clerks purchased it for twenty-seven cents a pound and sold it to members at thirty-five cents. It is now planned to deal in the same way in hams, bacon, canned goods, coffee and a few staples for a beginning.

The householders plan to establish a co-operative grocery. Each shareholder would have only one vote, regardless of the amount of stock owned, and 51 per cent of the stockholders would control instead of 51 per cent of stock. Several professors of the University of Chicago were among the speakers.

The Philippine government is now making a complete exploration and survey of the sunker river in Palawan survey of the sunken river in Palawan lic notice as a show place for tourists.

Jumbo Wells Meets Kreider At Staten's Club

Realizing that it will evidently take a mighty good man to beat Rude Kreider, the Rome, Ga., light heavyweight, who has won two battles to date before the gong has called for the end of the first round, Manager Harry Staten has sent to New York for a big boy, who, it is said, is just the man who can turn the trick.

Jumbo Wells, a big 170-pound lad, was selected by Staten's New York representatives as just the man to turn the seemingly impossible trick. He is rugged, a good puncher and one of the most willing big men in the east today.

Wells has fought such men as Bill McKinnon, Sailor Burke, Jack McFarland, Billy Froelock and others. These four men have fought such fellows as Ketchell, Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, Papke and others of like stamp; so Wells can be rated among the top-notchers.

Staten is working on some good preliminaries, and a semi-dindup to open the bill.

AMERICAN GAMES FOR THE GERMANS

New York, March 12.—Germany has decided to embrace the American athletic system and leading German universities are planning to introduce college sports on American lines, according to advices received here. German military men hitherto have confined sports "practically to saber fighting and beer drinking contests. Serious comprehensive efforts will now be made to popularize field, track and aquatic atheletics by means of intercollegiate competitions."

Representatives of four universities, ten technical colleges, two veterinary schools, the Royal Agricultural college and two mining academies attended a recent meeting in Berlin and agreed to organize at regular intervals intercollegiate competitions to be called "German university Olympias." The first meeting will be held in Leipsic in 1913.

AMUNDSEN AND SCOTT LAUDED BY "DOC" COOK

New York, March 12.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who is a close personal friend of Amundsen, the South Pole explorer, left New York tonight on board the Mauretania for Liverpool, London, Paris and Berlin. He spoke before his departure on Amundsen's dash to the South Pole. He unhesitatingly believed that the pole had been reached by the Norwegian explorer. He thought Amundsen was well equipped for a rapid run with his light dog-drawn sleds.

Dogged persistency was Amundsen's strong point, said Dr. Cook, who was in close relation with him for two years on the Belgica Antarctic expedition, and he adopted the proper system of feeding up his men and dogs in preparation for the final struggle. His quiet, unassuming character had prevented him from claiming to have been first at the South Pole and also from saying that no one else had been there.

As to Captain Scott, Dr. Cook believed he also must have reached the pole, but whether before or after Amundsen could not be known until his return. However, Dr. Cook thought Captain Scott's progress probably was slower than Amundsen's owing to the somewhat experimental nature of his equipment and the size of his expedition.

TWO FLYINC SOLDIERS DASHED TO GROUND

Berlin, March 12.—Two flying soldiers were hurt today while executing a military reconnaisance in a monoplane. Lieutenant Engwer, of the railroad regiment, and Lieutenant Solmitz, of the automobile corps, ascended to make observations. The motor stopped while they were at a considerable altitude. They were obliged to make an emergency landing in which the monoplane dashed heavily to the ground and was smashed. The two lieutenant suffered severely.

An aviator who was accompanying them in a biplane descended at the same time and rendered first aid. It is feared Lieutenant Engwer cannot recover.

JERRY MURPHEY WINS DRAW WITH "FIGHTING CARPENTER"

Jerry Murphey, of Indianapolis, was substituted for Eddie Smith, of New York, in the main bout against Frank Whitney, of Chicago, "The Fighting Carpenter," in the main bout at the Gate City Athletic Club on Tuesday night and got a draw decision. They went on at catch weight.

There was no great amount of edge to the battle. Both exchanged about an even number of blows, none of any great damage.

Whitney, however, forced the fighting from the first tap of the gong until the last, while Murphey backed away, ran to clinches and held on repeatedly. Whitney also opened Murphey's eye with a vicious swing, the only real effective blow during the entire scrap. In addition, Whitney conceded anywhere from seven to ten pounds to Murphey.

Aside from one rip-snorting swing of Whitney's, very few of the blows were effective and the majority of these were landed by the carpenter.

As a result the majority of the crowd seemed to think that Whitney should have had the decision.

It was a good scrap, take it all and all, with more science to it than a lot of the fights there have been here recently.

Referee Burke stopped the semi-windup of eight rounds between Jimmy Moral, of Pittsburg, and Battling Larry Ryan, of New York, in the first round, when Ryan was apparently all in and about to be sent to sleepland from the walloping that Moral was handing out.

Moral is, in reality, Buck Crouse, too good a boy for Ryan. He demonstrated that he had him outclassed right from the jump, being taller, more scientific, with the longer reach and the better punch.

Some of the crowd hissed the stopping of the bout. Ryan claims that he was only stalling, but it certainly looked like he was all in and about to be put down for the final count of ten. His fighting pose assumed right after Referee Burke stopped the mill looked more like pure grandstand play. He was wobbly on his pins even then.

In the opening bout of the evening, Spider Britt gave Harry Adams such a lacing in two rounds that the referee stopped it. The decision met with the approbation of the crowd.

The six-round preliminary between Arthur Worthy and Billy Hooper was a rip-snorter from start to finish. Hooper clearly earned the decision by landing the most telling blows, though in the second round it looked like Worthy had him. The pace set by Worthy in that stanza, however, was a little faster than he could keep up and he seemed to tire from then out, while Hooper got stronger.

What reason Smith will have for not coming here for the scrap is hard to fathom. He received his transportation all right as the railway ticket agents sent notification to that effect to the Gate City Club. The ticket was sent to him Saturday.

A large crowd attended the mill.

COBB'S FIRST GREAT PENNANT-WINNING FEAT

FOR five consecutive seasons the achievements of Tyrus Raymond Cobb have furnished daily topics of conversation for followers of baseball. Of all the occasions in which he has been the central figure, at the bat, in the field or on the bases, it is probable no single exploit had greater effect on the fortunes of the Tigers than his home run drive in the ninth inning, of the seventeen-inning drawn game between the Athletics and Detroit, played in the City of Brotherly Love, September 30, 1907. The final score being 9-9.

That wallop batted the American league championship from Philadelphia to Detroit, which may be considered a reasonably long hit.

Tyrus Raymond Cobb.

The season had only a week to run, the loss of the game by Detroit in the regulation nine rounds would almost surely have cost them the pennant. It was scheduled as the first game of a double-header. The Tigers were only half a game ahead of the Mackmen and an even on the day was all they expected. Jennings had no twirler in shape to take the second contest from the veteran Plank, who in his best form was to work for the home team. An even break meant much to Detroit, however, as the Tiger pitching staff happened to be strong against the only two clubs which they were to meet after this eventful day.

Manager Jennings sent "Wild Bill" Donovan to the slab and he was opposed first by Dygert, then Waddell and finally Plank. The strain of pitching twenty-four victories out of twenty-eight games within a period of three months, had had its effect on the Detroit star and before the tired muscles could be made to respond to his iron will the game was apparently lost and with it the Tiger prospects.

At the beginning of the seventh round an error unsettled Waddell and before he regained his footing four runs had been rushed across the plate. By dint of much labor the visitors had made one run previously, and another in the next session brought the total to six. The Athletics had made eight runs without much effort.

When Cobb faced Waddell in the ninth inning with a man down and Crawford on first, all the strength, skill and nerve that had changed this sixth place outfit to pennant contenders, all the work of the tireless, cheering manager, all the hopes of the western fans were at stake.

Here was a team of seasoned veterans, former champions, guided by a master hand, the terror of American league batsmen on the slab, two runs ahead, only two more hands to retire, a league pennant, a world's series for the prize. Against this powerful combination a mere stripling was opposed. It seemed easy.

In response to signals flashed from bench to field, from base to base, from the home plate to the pitcher's slab, the giant southpaw sent five balls whizzing toward the watchful, keen-eyed youth. Three times the "Peach" had been tempted by curves that just missed the plate. Twice he watched the ball cut over a corner. Then with that intuition known only to the kings of the clan he divined that the cannon ball speeding toward him was not going to break, it was coming "straight over."

There followed a mighty crash as of broken hopes, of crushed ambitions, of dreams dispelled. The runner on first base scored, closely followed by the flying "kid." The champion batter, champion base runner, champion fielder of the age had tied the score. Cobb had won his first pennant.

A FORTUNE FOR YOU.

WE OFFER in the center of Buckhead a triangular lot fronting 430 feet on Roswell Road, 425 feet on Peachtree Road. This lot is to Buckhead what our Five Points are to Atlanta—the Hub. With the handsome country homes going up in that section, and Buckhead to be made into the Town Beautiful, we consider this as good a buy as Central Real Estate, as it is the key to the natural expansion of this little town—the Five Points of Atlanta made to order. A property that traffic from Cobb, DeKalb, Milton and Gwinnett counties must pass to enter Atlanta. Look at it then. Think of the little lot at Five Points in Atlanta that could have been bought for practically nothing when Atlanta was a small town. It would bring a fortune today if put on the market. ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The fifth sale of Peachtree street property in the block between Baker street and the junction of Peachtree and Ivy streets was made yesterday.

Dr. T. B. Hinman has sold No. 308 Peachtree street to J. T. Holleman for a consideration of $43,500, or a shade more than $846 a front foot.

This property is on the west side of Peachtree street, between Baker street and Porter place. It has a frontage of 52 feet, with a width of 60 feet in the rear. The 52 feet of frontage on the street is exclusive of an 8-foot alley on the north line. This alley is included in the property, but there is a restriction which prohibits building upon it. At a height of 10 feet, however, a building may project over it.

The north line of the lot is 160 feet, and the south line is 128 feet. There is a two-story residence upon the lot.

Sales of a Week.

This is the fifth sale within less than a week's time in this block. The prices ranged from about $850 to slightly over $1,000 a front foot. The first sale was that of J. T. Holleman's property, on the west side of the street, adjoining the Plaza hotel. Then followed the sale of Porter Langston's property, just across the street from the Holleman property.

Monday was announced the sale of the old Porter home, at the corner of Peachtree street and Porter place, for a consideration exceeding $1,000 a front foot, and the sale of Edgar Dunlap's property, in the middle of the block, on the east side of the street. The sale of Dr. Hinman's place here announced is the fifth.

Other Sales Announcements.

W. E. Worley and others have bought, through Mr. Worley's agency, 126 acres, fronting 5,500 feet on Carroll avenue and the east side of Peachtree road, for a consideration of $24,000. The greater part of this tract lies inside the corporate limits of Chamblee. It is understood that the purchasers will subdivide the tract into city lots.

George P. Moore has sold, for F. P. Kerns, to M. C. King, the southwest corner of Peachtree and Seventeenth street, a vacant lot 100x200 feet, for a consideration of $20,000, or $200 a front foot.

Importance of Foreign Politics.

(Editorial in March Hampton Magazine.)

We, as a nation, are beginning to have foreign affairs. Of course we always have had foreign affairs, but not since our second war with England—a full century—has our participation in foreign politics attained the importance that it is now assuming. The war with Spain, said the phrase-makers, made us a "world-power." It gave us colonies. The Boxer rebellion linked us to the far east by reason of John Hay's "open door policy." The Algeciras convention brought us into the European concert. Mr. Shuster has taken us into the near east. The Monroe doctrine, properly speaking, was a domestic policy, but new circumstances have made it more distinctly a foreign policy.

In the past few months we have abrogated a treaty with Russia, we have sent troops into China, one of our countrymen has held the fate of Persia in the hollow of his hand, we have warned the Cubans to quiet their politics or prepare for an expedition of Yankee soldiers to do it for them, and at this writing the senate is talking about peace treaties with England and France.

That the Russian treaty was ended without openly insulting the czar; that our soldiers in China are quietly policing a railway; that Mr. Shuster wisely refrained from permitting his partisans to resist Russia and England by hopeless war; that the Cubans quieted down at our first warning word—all these things go to show that we are quite able to take care of ourselves in the field of diplomacy.

But there are evidences that we should not accept these successes with complacency. The participation of our government in foreign affairs has progressed much more rapidly than public interest in foreign news. American journalism requires to be readjusted to new conditions. The news channels through which the bulk of the newspapers receive their intelligence are not adapted to adequate handling of foreign news.

The president's solemn warning to Cuba of the imminence of a third American intervention was a surprise to almost every American reader—the political situation in Cuba had not been reported in our press. The news from Persia came largely through foreign channels.

From South America, where the Monroe doctrine gives us an interest in every political movement, we never get any news until there is a crisis.

It behooves Americans to know more about foreign politics, and it is the duty of American newspapers to give them that knowledge. A minor readjustment for the operation of news services will bring this about.

New Light on Patrick Henry.

(From The Docket.)

After the capture of Richmond a party of English tourists were in that city, chaperoned by an old darky.

"What is that building?" said one of the gentlemen to him.

"Dat's a 'baco warehouse,' said the old man.

And then, looking in the direction of a huge hill, Church hill, as it is called in Richmond, the touring party spied a church at the top.

"And what is that building? Is that a tobacco warehouse, also?"

"Oh, no, sah. Dat's de church whar Patrick Henry made de speech 'Give be liberty or give me death,' and 'fore Gawd, dey done give him both."

Novel Tunics.

The tunics featured for the spring season showed many novel details which increased their popularity in no small degree, says The Dry Goods Economist, among them the slightly draped skirts, and waists with fichu garnitures. Beaded bands have sold in good quantities. The novelty that is featured for spring selling is the wide and narrow beaded net flounce. While this is one of the ultra ideas at present, there is a feeling that these will score more strongly in the fall, when the vogue for ruffles and flounces will be more pronounced.

VIRGINIA JOINS TAFT'S COLUMN

Plenty of Cheers for Col. Roosevelt, But No Votes.

The Delegates to Chicago Chosen by Republican Convention Instructed for Taft by Vote of 702 to 64---Cabell Faction is Barred.

Roanoke, Va., March 12.—Four delegates-at-large, instructed to vote for the nomination of President Taft on every ballot at the Chicago convention, were elected tonight by the Virginia republican convention, which met here today. The action of the convention puts into the Taft column twenty-two of the twenty-four delegates to the national convention, the two delegates from the third district being the only ones not instructed for him. The resolution providing for the instruction of delegates was adopted by a vote of 702 to 64.

The regular work of the convention was delayed by a contest over the delegation from Richmond. The credentials committee voted 6 to 4 to seat the delegation representing the so-called "Bradley-Hanson" faction in place of a delegation representing the faction led by Internal Revenue Commissioner R. E. Cabell. The convention, after considerable debate, sustained the action of the committee.

A harmony slate for delegates-at-large was then adopted. It consisted of Representative C. B. Slemp, National Committeeman Alvah H. Martin of Norfolk, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Royal E. Cabell of Richmond and R. H. Angell of Roanoke.

The resolutions adopted, in addition to instructing for Taft, praised the administrations of McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft, indorsed National Committeeman Martin and Congressman Slemp, who was re-elected state chairman.

Mention of Roosevelt's name by several speakers brought forth enthusiastic cheering, but there was no attempt to instruct delegates to vote for his nomination for president. The temporary chairman, S. H. Hoge, of Roanoke, failed to mention Colonel Roosevelt in reviewing the administrations of recent republican presidents.

NO ATTACKS ON ROOSEVELT BY TAFT CAMPAIGN BUREAU

Washington, March 12.—Hereafter the literary end of the Taft campaign bureau will refrain from attacks on Colonel Roosevelt and the men who are supporting him. President Taft has insisted, it is said, that personalties be abandoned.

The decision was reached today at a meeting attended by the president, Director McKinley, Senator Crane and Secretary Hilles.

ROOSEVELT STILL ASSAILING PRIMARY LAW OF NEW YORK

Mineola, N. Y., March 12.—Colonel Roosevelt gave out a statement here today replying to one issued by the republican state committee last night, asserting the colonel was inconsistent in assailing the state direct primary law inasmuch as he had previously supported it.

Said Mr. Roosevelt:

"The present law is not only a worse law than the bill proposed by Governor Hughes (which, the colonel says, he supported because it was the best obtainable at that time), but so much worse that a great many good men have told me it would have been better to have had no law at all."

He said efforts were making to confuse the public over the law proposed by Hughes and the one enacted.

NO PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY FOR LOUISIANA DEMOCRATS

New Orleans, March 12.—Lack of legislative provision for the holding of presidential preference primaries caused the democratic state central committee of Louisiana today to decide upon a state convention to select delegates to the Baltimore national convention. The convention will be held in Baton Rouge June 4.

The manner of selectinfi delegates to the state convention was left with the committee of each parish, with the recommendation that the various parish committees call presidential preference primaries in their respective parishes "provided that they have necessary funds to defray the expenses."

An effort was made to have the committee declare against the adoption of the unit rule by the state convention, but this was voted down.

There was no mention of any candidate for president on the floor of the meeting and there appeared to be a general desire to await developments in the campaign to secure the nomination before putting Louisiana on record as favoring any candidate.

Representatives of several parishes stated emphatically that preferential primaries would be ordered in their parishes, but to the state convention is left the selection of Louisiana's entrie delegation to the national convention.

Col. Thomas H. Lewis, of Opelousas, was elected state chairman.

FOR CALIFORNIA DELEGATES

COL. ROOSEVELT WILL FIGHT

Sacramento, Cal., March 12.—Petitions to place the name of Theodore Roosevelt upon the presidential preference primary ballot at the election on May 14, will be filed in all the eleven congressional districts in the state by tomorrow afternoon, according to a report received today by Governor Johnson.

The filing of these petitions will assure progressive republicans that the names of Roosevelt delegates will be in the first column on the republican primary ballots.

The presidential primary law provides that the names of the candidates be placed upon the ballot in the order in which the petitions nominating them are filed.

Instructed for Taft.

Greenwood, S. C., March 12.—The third district South Carolina delegates to the republican national convention at Chicago, R. R. Tolbert, Jr., and Ernest F. Cochran, were instructed for Taft.

AMERICAN PEOPLE NO MOB, ROOSEVELT TELLS CAMPBELL

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 12.—A sharp reply to Congressman Phillip H. Campbell, of Kansas, was made tonight by Colonel Roosevelt, who took exception in particular to one passage in the letter which the congressman yesterday addressed to him. Mr. Campbell was quoted as having pointed to the overturning of the decision of Pontius Pilate by the people as an argument against the recall of judicial decisions. Colonel Roosevelt dictated this statement:

"Congressman Campbell's position is in effect that the American people are as unfit for self-government and as prone to guilty excesses as the mob which demanded the crucifixion of the Saviour. I do not think Congressman Campbell's comparison is in good taste and in any event it needs no discussion by me."

The statement was made on Colonel Roosevelt's return tonight to Oyster Bay from New York.

While in New York Colonel Roosevelt conferred with leaders of the Roosevelt movement regarding plans for the campaign.

According to the present plan Colonel Roosevelt's set speeches will be limited to probably six or eight. He expects to make three or four speeches in the west and a few in the east and said that one of them had been prepared. Neither the time nor the place for the speeches had been decided upon.

FOR SUGAR TARIFF LOUISIANA FIGHTS

At Mass Meeting Underwood and the Free Sugar Bill Are Attacked.

New Orleans, March 12.—Louisiana's protest to congress against the passage of the bill putting sugar on the free list was expressed at a mass meeting in the auditorium of the winter garden here tonight in which Congressman Oscar Underwood, of Alabama, chairman of the ways and means committee of the house, was severely criticized in addresses and a set of voluminous resolutions unanimously adopted.

The auditorium was well filled and nearly every sugar planter of prominence in the state was in attendance. Addressed were made by Mayor Martin Behrman, H. N. Pharr, of St. Mary's Parish; Donelson Cafferty, son of the late United States Senator Cafferty.

James D. Hill, of this city, presided. "The million tons of sugar produced in Louisiana are necessary to supply the demands of the markets of the world," said the resolutions, "and its loss would, through the law of supply and demand, increase the price of sugar, which would mean untold profits to the refiners into whose hands would be placed its sole distribution to the ultimate consumers."

The criticism of Congressman Underwood by Mr. Cafferty was one of the liveliest features of the meeting, following many references to the tariff and free trade and the theory of protection.

"Whether from the standpoint of protection, which it does not seek to abolish for others, or of free trade which it prevents and mutilates for Louisiana and the beet ground states, the Underwood bill is a blunder and an outrage," said Mr. Cafferty.

ZIMMER TO GIVE BARBECUE TODAY

Billy Zimmer's barbecue at Kimballville farm, complimentary to the Ward and Vokes Comedy Company, Edward R. West, an old friend of Mr. Zimmer, and the newspaper workers of Atlanta, will be served at 2 o'clock this afternoon, under the large pavilion near the old farmhouse.

Starting in at New Orleans, Mr. West became a regular member of the company, going as a barber. This is not a permanent position, but it is an advance from the coffee business, according to Mr. West, and so, when Hap Ward gave him the chance, he did not hesitate. Mr. West is a good dramatic critic. He can also cook, shovel coal, and milk cows.

He has had much practical experience, not only on the stage, but with its allied profession—the circus. For two years, beginning April, 1881, he was caretaker for both of Jumbo's trunks, according to his friends.

"I want all the newspaper workers in Atlanta," said Mr. Zimmer, "to understand that I am giving this barbecue to them as much as to Ed West, or the Ward and Vokes people, and I want them to come."

During the afternoon Mr. Zimmer will exhibit his private zoo to his friends in regular circus style, with Ed West as the speiler. Among Mr. Zimmer's rarest specimens is a gorilla, which has been trained to box, and during the afternoon Mr. Zimmer will put on the gloves with him and show his guests what the man ape can do. He is a vicious brute, and no one but Billy Zim and his keeper can handle him. Nevertheless, Ed West, one-time advance agent, will do the part of a referee, while Ward will second the gorilla, with Vokes in Zim's corner.

After the bout a collection will be taken up to pay Zim's doctor bill and supply West with arnica.

Longshoremen Strike.

Gulfport, Miss., March 12.—A fruitless effort was made at a citizens' mass meeting here this afternoon to bring about a settlement of the longshoremen's strike. The stevedores announced they would not recognize the longshoremen's union and the meeting adjourned. Although no violence has been reported, it is feared serious trouble may occur, as some bitterness has been shown by both sides.

CANTON BURNED AND PUT TO SACK

Great Part of Chinese City Reported in Ashes.

Disbanded Soldiers Used the Torch and Then Sacked the Eastern Part of the City—Missionaries Ordered to Quit the City.

London, March 12.—According to the Pekin correspondent of The Daily Mail, reports have reached the Chinese capital that the eastern part of the city of Canton has been burned and sacked by disbanded soldiers.

Hong Kong, March 12.—The situation at Canton, where revolters under Luk, a brigand chief, are trying to oust the local and provincial governments, is regarded by local consular authorities as most alarming. European missionaries have been ordered to quit the city. All available river vessels are being pressed into service to bring refugees to Hong Kong.

Several British boats in Canton are keeping steam up, ready to depart on the instant. The gunboats stationed off Canton are clear for action.

Fighting at Canton began with an attack by brigands several days ago, and it has continued constantly ever since in the suburbs. The attack became serious when soldiers in the forts mutinied and surrendered the forts to Luk's men. The invaders equipped themselves from the arsenal, and, with modern guns and ammunition, took possession of the admiralty building. The number of persons killed or seriously wounded thus far is estimated at between 100 and 350.

DODD IS MADE RECEIVER FOR M'GAHEE GROCERY

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the federal court yesterday by T. F. McGahee, one of the largest grocery merchants on Peters street, and subsequently J. B. Daniel, of Atlanta, a creditor, asked for the appointment of a receiver by Judge Newnan.

The papers indicate liabilities of $74,061.12 with assets of $88,008.18. The schedules indicate that the Farmers and Traders' bank is the largest secured creditor, the petitioner in bankruptcy being indebted to that institution in the sum of $36,377. In the McGahee assets is real estate valued at $32,250. Harry Dodd was named receiver under a bond for $5,000.

To Reimburse Texas.

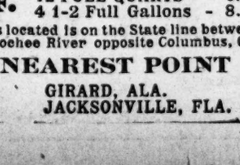

Washington, March 12.—President Taft late today sent to congress a message recommending an appropriation to reimburse the state of Texas for salaries of additional Texas rangers employed in patrolling the Mexican boundary during the last three months of 1911 and in January, 1912. Patrol service by the rangers, the president said, saved the United States a more extended army patrol.

Coffee.

New York, March 12.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 1 point on March, but generally 2 to 6 points higher in sympathy with higher French cables. Trading was quiet and the market showed comparatively little change during the day, with the close steady, net 1 point lower to 4 points higher. Sales 60,250 bags. There was considerable scattering liquidation of March during the day, notwithstanding the firmness of the near months in Havre, but there seemed to be no particular pressure against later deliveries, while there was a scattering demand from bull brokers and Wall street sources.

Havre was 1/8@½ franc higher; Hamburg was ¼@½ pfennig higher. Private cables reported that March deliveries in Havre, were being promptly scraped. Neither of the Brazilian markets reported any change; Rio sevens, 8$375; Santos fours, 8$400; Santos sevens, 7$000.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON RALLIED NEAR THE CLOSE

During the Session Heavy Realizing Caused Decline. Spot Lower.

New York, March 12.—There was heavy realizing in the cotton market today, on prospects for better weather in the south, but after showing a net loss of from 9 to 12 points prices rallied quite sharply from the lowest during the last half-hour and the close was firm, net one point higher to six points lower, August being relatively firm, while new crop positions showed the maximum losses.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1@7 points in response to better cables than expected and the weather map showing heavy rains in the central and eastern sections of the cotton belt during the past twenty-four hours. Bull support was rather active at the start, but offerings were very heavy and prices gradually eased off from the opening figures. Rumors that a basis had been found for a settlement of the English labor troubles at today's conference and private predictions that clear weather in the south today and tomorrow would be followed by renewed rain before the end of the week caused a slight bulge toward midday, but the market soon weakened again, under continued heavy Wall street or commission house selling and during the early afternoon broke to a net loss of 10 to 12 points on rumors that one of the leading long lines was being liquidated. The selling on this decline seemed to relieve the situation somewhat, however, and the market late in the day turned steadier on covering by earlier sellers for a turn and renewed support from leading bull brokers. Closing prices were some 7 to 10 points up from the lowest. The official forecast called for clearing weather in the south today and generally fair weather tomorrow, but local weather experts were inclined to attach importance to the presence of another low area on the Pacific coast, and there was probably more or less buying in the late trading here on the talk of renewed rains in the south before the end of the week. Private reports from eastern belt points reported that farm work had been further delayed by the rains of yesterday and while there were reports of a less active spot demand none of the southern advices indicated any change in the attitude of holders.

Receipts today, 39,955 bales, against 43,234 last week and 9,799 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston, 15,464, against 5,602 last year; at New Orleans, 7,507, against 1,211 last year, and at Houston, 7,071, against 2,830 last year.

Cotton closed quiet 15 points lower; middling uplands, 10.65; middling gulf, 10.90; sales, 300 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, March 12.—Spot cotton closed steady, unchanged; middling, 10 11-16; sales, 700 bales; to arrive, 700; low ordinary, 7c, nominal; ordinary, 7 13-16, nominal; good ordinary, 9¼; strict good ordinary, 9 5-8; low 10 5-16; middling, 10 11-16; strict middling, 11; good middling, 11¼; strict good middling, 11 7-6; middling fair, 11¾; middling fai rto fair, 12⅛; fair, 12½, nominal; receipts, 7,507; stock, 290,584.

Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 1 point up, compared with the close of yesterday. Cables were slightly better than expected, and the weather map was again unfavorable because of too much rain over the cotton belt. There was plenty of cotton for sale around the ring, however, and the market had little strength in the early trading. The most active months stood 2 to 3 points up soon after the call, but sagged after that, and at the end of the first half hour of business prices were 2 points under yesterday's final quotations. Selling came principally from the long side, although the weather forecast of fair weather for a large portion of the belt caused some short selling.

The market had an easy undertone from the middle of the morning on. Contracts were in plentiful supply, and the gossip of the market was bearish in tone. Little buying for long account was in evidence, and support came almost entirely from profit-takers among scalping shorts. Reports from Texas were that, while plowing had been delayed, fully 70 per cent of the cotton lands were ready for planting. At noon prices were 9 to 14 points under yesterday's close.

In the afternoon session the market was quiet but steady. At 2 o'clock prices were 3 to 8 points under yesterday's close.

The cotton market closed steady at a net decline of 2 to 8 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, March 12.—The cotton goods markets are very strong and active. Print cloths have been advanced and an advance in staple prints is impending following some very large orders. Export shipments to date are substantially ahead of a year ago. Men's wear orders are being placed by tailors to the trade in an encouraging way, and there is a good demand for spot serges.

Liverpool Cotton.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 12. —Despite the advance in Liverpool the prospects of clearing weather over the cotton belt during the next few days brought about a slow decline until all of the opening advance was lost and ten points additional. Then in the last five minutes a buying order for some large outside traders carried the near months to close at last night prices, while new crops are some five points lower. The market did not think this buying was indicative of an advancing market, but rather an effort to check the declining tendency due to better weather predictions. Nothing definite was heard from the coal strike in England.

Liverpool should come four points lower tomorrow to agree with our close.

TRADING LIGHT IN WALL STREET

Stock Market Had Very Dull Session---News of the Day.

New York, March 12.—The session on the stock exchange today was in many ways reminiscent of the torpid markets of the first two months of the year. Trading again fell to the point where it ceased to possess the slightest sifnifcance or purpose. The professional element apparently was indisposed to follow last week's rise and the bear party was more than ordinarily quiescent, occassionally feeling the list for weak spots, but dislodging few stocks. Later prices but net results, except in some of the specialties, were almost negligible.

Wall street manifested only languid interest in the English coal strike concerning which the one development of importance was the acceptance by the mine owners of the government's plan for another conference. Up to the close of our market no details concerning the outcome of the meeting were obtainable. London's participation in our market was too small for comment. Firmness was reported both in Paris and Berlin, the condition of the latter market refuting rumors of banking troubles at the German capital.

News from Washington that the senate finance committee had deferred action on the house steel schedule seemed to exercise no influence on the shares of the steel and iron companies. Another resolution demanding that the department of justice inquire into the operations of the "smelter trust" and mentioning the American Smelting and Refining Company, by name, failed to affect the stock of the latter corporation, which was uncommonly strong.

As for general political conditions advices from the national capital and other active centers suggested a clearing of the atmosphere, so far as it may have been obscured by the conflict within the ranks of the dominant party. A decision by the interstate commerce commission, ordering a reduction on cotton seed from various points in the southwest to Memphis was set down as another victory for shippers over carriers.

The year's already large shipments of gold to South America were increased today by over $500,000, with prospects of additional engagements before the expiration of the month. While short time money has recently shown a stiffer tone, the rates for four, five and six months eased off a bit today. Outflow of cash from local banks to the sub-treasury and the interior continues and in all likelihood another decrease in reserves will be disclosed at the end of the week. New financing today included the sale of $3,500,000 Chesapeake and Ohio 4½ per cent gold notes maturing in 1914, the proceeds going to pay for equipment already ordered. Other issues of like character are soon to be announced, attesting the unpopularity of bond offerings at this period. The annual statement of the Pittsburg Coal Company, whose earnings show a decrease for the preceding year, fails to explain the recent activity of the preferred and common shares at higher prices.

Today's bond market was irregular with some tendency to yield. Total sales, par value, were $2,001,000. United States government's twos registered and Panama threes coupon advanced ⅛ per cent on call.

HEAVY SELLING SENT WHEAT OFF

Rumor That Large Bull Is Unloading His Holdings. Corn Down.

Chicago, March 12.—Rumors that a bull leader, who was supposed to be the largest owner of May option, had unloaded his holdings, formed a source of depression today in wheat. Closing prices were ¼@⅜ to ½@⅝ under last night. Corn finished ⅝@¾ to ¾ down, oats off ⅛ to ⅜@¾, and hog products varying from last night's level to an advance of 7½.

Wheat traders could not shake off a belief that heavy selling, which was in evidence, represented, at least in part, big accumulation of property kept in the hands of a powerful operator here for nearly a year. Moreover, the cables were bearish in tone, after having been bullish for several days. Foreign crop conditions were generally favorable and there was prospect of increasing shipments from Argentina. In addition, the world's available supply total showed a huge gain for the week as against a falling off during the corresponding time a year ago. There were some complaints here from Indiana and Ohio as to considerable losses by winter killing in late-sown wheat, but the help to the bulls was short lived, the market closing at almost the bottom point of the day. Between the opening and the last sale, May fluctuated from $1.03⅜ to $1.04½ and in the end was ½@⅝ net lower, but firm at $1.04 even.

Corn followed wheat down grade. Realizing by longs appeared to be the rule. Speculators, who had previously taken profits at higher figures, seemed slow about replacing holdings. The change in sentiment was explained as being based on the poorness of demand for cash grades and on the freedom with which the interior made offerings. May ranged from 71⅝@71¾ to 72½, closing firm at 71⅞, a decline of ¾ cents net. No. 2 yellow was not quoted.

Revised judgment as to late seeding weakened oats. It was found that farmers in general expressed no anxiety. Outside limits touched for May proved to be 54⅛ and 53½, with the close ⅛ net lower at 53⅝. That month was relatively firm owing to talk of small receipts and delayed deliveries.

Advances at the yards on account of fewer arrivals than expected stiffened the market for hog products. Liberal sales by a large packing concern checked a greater rise. Pork changed from a shade to 7½, but the rest of the list not over 2½.

been tried in Georgia. The trap was set, but it worked the other way—Joseph M. Brown got every delegate in the state, although he had announced his strong opposition to the scheme which excluded the minority. The adoption of this plan, as will be recalled, became an issue in the state campaign which followed, and the convention, composed entirely of Brown delegates, not only nominated him for governor, but named the delegates to the national democratic convention in Denver.

It is interesting, at least, that the present committee has seen fit to adopt the same plan as that which followed the famous Macon convention.

Meeting of the Committee.

The foregoing presents, in brief, the work of the state executive committee which met in the senate chamber, state capitol, at noon Tuesday.

The committee was called to order by Chairman W. C. Wright, of Newnan, at 12 o'clock noon, and within forty-five minutes had completed its work and adjourned.

The resolutions embodying the foregoing arrangement, were offered by Hon. P. A. Stovall, of Savannah, immediately following the call of the roll by Secretary C. M. Hitch.

Cecil Neal, of Columbus, moved to amend by changing the date to May 15, contending that this would come nearer enabling the counties to secure the legal registration list. Mr. Neal's motion was lost.

A motion to provide for a second choice for president was offered by Hon. C. B. McKinney, of DeKalb, and afterward withdrawn.

A resolution by Mr. Jackson, of Jones, requesting all the counties in the state to hold their primary elections May 1, was adopted unanimously.

A resolution by Mr. Neal, of Columbus, requesting the county committee to use the Australian ballot system or some secret method of voting, and urging the legislature to pass a general law providing for such a system throughout the state in all elections, was discussed and tabled until the next meeting of the committee.

Gilmer County Again.

Gilmer county was heard from as usual in executive committee meetings. Hon. W. A. Cox, of Gilmer, offered a resolution authorizing the county executive committees to forbid participation in primaries to persons who belong to parties that put out county candidates in opposition to the democratic ticket. The resolution was unanimously adopted as follows:

"Resolved, That in each and every county in this state where any party maintains an organization and runs candidates in opposition to the nominees of the democratic party for senator, representative or county offices; in such counties full power is hereby delegated to the democratic executive committee to pass such rules and prescribe such regulations as will prohibit any one from voting except white democrats."

The Resolutions Passed.

Following are the Stovall resolutions as passed by the committee without change:

"The state democratic executive committee at a called meeting this day assembled hereby adopts the following rules and regulations, to govern a special presidential primary preference election for the voters of the democratic party, and also to provide for the declaration of the result, and also to provide for the holding of a special convention for the purpose of selecting delegates to the national democratic convention to be held in the city of Baltimore on June 25, 1912.

"It is ordered that a democratic primary election be held on the first day of May, 1912, in each of the counties of this state for the purpose of allowing the democratic voters of the state an opportunity of expressing by direct vote their choice for a democratic candidate for president of the United States.

"Resolved, further, That all white electors who have registered for 1912 and whose names appear on the registration list as furnished by the tax collectors or registrars between April 2, 1912, and the date of the primary election provided for herein, and who are democrats and by participating in said primary thereby pledge themselves to support the nominees of the democratic party of the United States, are hereby declared qualified to vote in said primary election.

"Resolved, further, That the registrars of each county shall furnish to the election managers of each voting precinct of their respective counties lists of all registered voters; and it is further resolved that if in any county the registrars have not completed purging the registration list for 1912 by the time the primary election hereby called is held, that then the tax collectors shall furnish to said election managers of each voting precinct of their respective counties on or prior to the date of holding the elections on May 1, 1912, the list of registered voters as prepared by them.

Under County Committee.

"Resolved, further, That the county democratic executive committee in each county shall make all necessary arrangements and provisions for the holding of this election in each county, including the appointment of managers for the holding thereof.

"Resolved, further, That the state democratic executive committee shall prepare and furnish to the chairman of each county democratic executive committee the necessary election blanks and ballots for use in such counties and on which ballot shall appear the names of the following known and announced candidates for the democratic nomination for president in alphabetical order, towit: Champ Clark, Judson Harmon, Oscar Underwood, Woodrow Wilson; and there shall be left a space on each ticket under the last printed name upon which the voter shall be allowed to write the name of any other democratic candidate for this office for whom he desires to cast his ballot. Each ticket shall have printed thereon the following directions: 'The voter shall strike from his ticket the names of all candidates for whom he does not desire to vote, leaving thereon only the name of such candidate for whom he desires to vote. Should the voter not desire to vote for any candidate whose name appears on the printed list, but for some other candidate he shall strike from this ticket all of the printed names and insert below the printed names the name of such person for whom he desires to vote.'

"Resolved further, That no ticket voted in said primary election shall be counted except such as conforms to the requirements of these rules and the official ballot hereby prescribed.

"It shall be the duty of the chairman of each county democratic executive committee to see that the tickets are properly distributed and placed at the various voting places in their respective counties and to see that registration lists are furnished the managers of each precinct in accordance with these rules.

Plurality Choice.

"Resolved further, That the candidate for the office of president who at such primary election receives the largest number of votes cast in the entire state shall be considered and declared the choice of the democratic party of the state of Georgia for the office of president of the United States.

"Resolved further, That at noon on the day following the said primary election hereby ordered the county executive committee of the democratic party of each county shall meet at the county courthouse at noon and canvass the returns of said election, consolidate the vote and declare the result; and that the chairman of each such democratic executive committee shall immediately transmit to W. C. Wright, of Newnan, Ga., the chairman of the state democratic executive committee, the result of the primary in his county, as declared at such meeting of the county executive committee, unless notice of contest is given as hereinafter provided.

"Resolved further, That the state democratic executive committee shall convene at the senate chamber in the state capitol building at Atlanta, Ga., on the 10th day of May, 1912, at noon, at which time the chairman of the state executive committee shall present to said state committee the said election returns so received by him, and it shall be the duty of this committee to consolidate said returns, giving to each candidate the total popular vote received by said candidate in the state of Georgia and to declare as the choice of the democratic party of the state of Georgia for candidate for president of the United States the person receiving the largest number of votes cast in the entire state in said primary election.

As to Contests.

"Resolved further, That should any candidate desire to contest the result of the election in any county, he shall file with the chairman of the county executive committee in such county notice of contest and the grounds thereof by noon on the day following the holding of such primary and it shall be the duty of said county executive committee to proceed at once to hear and determine the same and to determine the same within not exceeding two days' time, and such county chairman shall certify the returns and result in such county to the chairman of this committee as soon as such contest is determined. Either party dissatisfied with the result of the decision on the contest by the county executive committee shall have the right to appeal the same to the state executive committee, which appeal shall be transmitted within three days after the decision by the county executive committee to the chairman of the state executive committee, and the state executive committee shall have the final authority to decide on any such appeals.

"Resolved further, That after the declaration of the result of said primary election by the state democratic executive committee the chairman of said state committee shall transmit to the chairman of each county democratic executive committee a communication, giving the name of the person who has been made by said election and declared by this committee to be the choice of the democratic party of Georgia for candidate for president of the United States and thereupon the county chairman of each county democratic committee shall at once, or as soon as practicable, call the county democratic committee together and such county committee shall from among the known friends and supporters in the county of the candidate who has been declared by the state committee as aforesaid the choice of the democratic party of Georgia for president of the United States, select delegates to a convention to be held as herein provided.

No Minority.

"Resolved further, That each county democratic executive committee shall have the right to select as many delegates to the convention herein provided for as it sees fit from among the known friends and supporters in said county of such successful candidate who has received the nomination in the entire state, but each county in the convention herein provided for shall be entitled to only twice the number of votes as it has representatives in the lower house of the general assembly of the state of Georgia.

"Resolved further, That each county democratic executive committee shall select the delegates to the convention herein provided for not later than May 22, 1912, and transmit the names of such delegates to the chairman of the state democratic executive committee immediately.

"Resolved further, That on the 29th day of May, 1912, and at noon, a convention be held for the purpose of electing delegates and alternates to the democratic national convention to be held on the 25th of June 19,12, at Baltimore, said convention hereby provided for to meet at such place in Atlanta, Ga., as may be subsequently designated by the chairman of the state democratic executive committee, and which convention to select such national delegates and alternates shall be composed of delegates from each county among the known friends and supporters of said successful candidate appointed by the various county democratic executive committees in the manner hereinbefore provided for.

"Said convention shall be charged with the duty as aforesaid of electing two delegates and two alternates from each congressional district in Georgia and four delegates and four alternates from the state at large (twenty-eight delegates and twenty-eight alternates in all) to represent the state of Georgia in the national democratic convention to be held on the 25th day of June, 1912, at the city of Baltimore, state of Maryland."

Fulton County Primary.

J. O. Cochran, secretary of the democratic executive committee of Fulton county, stated Tuesday that a meeting of the Fulton county committee will be called for Friday, March 15, for the purpose of ordering a county primary to be held on Wednesday, May 1, coincident with the state primary for president.

"I wish that the state executive committee had fixed the primary date a little later than May 1," said G. R. Hutchins, manager of Underwood's headquarters in the Aragon hotel. "That is a hard time for the farmers, for they are in the midst of operations at home at that time."

Visitors from all over the state, and from several other states also, visited the offices Tuesday. Several state senators and representatives are signed up on the registry book, under that date. Mr. Hutchins stated that everything was progressing as well as possible at this stage of the game.

VISION OF HELL RELATED BY CONFESSED MURDERER

ly, although he was guilty of the crime with which he was charged.

His Children Brought In.

The composure of the man in receiving his sentence was remarkable, his countenance bearing a smile throughout. A light of joy overspread his face when, just previous to his sentence, his two little children, a little girl aged about 5 and another little girl baby, were brought in the room and placed between him and his wife. No other relatives of the man were present.

The other dramatic scene was the one in which the leading counsel for the defense, Judge J. J. Kimsey, gave a talk, addressed to his client and the audience, on the evil of whisky-drinking.

The jury, after being out for about nineteen hours, returned a verdict of guilty, and the defendant was sentenced to hang on the 19th day of April next, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

Story of the Crime.

The evidence brought out showed that Heywood, on the Sunday morning of January 14 and during the day was quarrelsome with John Whittemore and other members of Whittemore's family, engaging in several rows with them; that Heygood was drinking during the day; that about 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon he made attempts to buy a gun, stating that he wanted it to kill Whittemore with; that about 9 o'clock Sunday night Heygood, after going to the house of W. T. Brooks, stole Brooks' gun and, concealing it, asked Brooks to accompany him to the house of the Whittemores. Brooks discovered the gun, and, after taking it away from Heygood, the two proceeded to their destination. Later Heygood stepped out of the house, and returned about ten minutes afterwards. When Brooks, followed by John Whittemore, stepped out of the door, a gun was fired out of the darkness, from the effects of which Whittemore died on the following Tuesday morning. The gun was the same Brooks had taken away from Heygood and hidden in the snow. Cut shells were used by Heygood in the weapon fired.

The defendant confessed on the stand, stating that, from the time of one of the early morning rows with the Whittemores up to the time the shot was fired, his mind was a perfect blank. The counsel for the defense argued that the treatment of the defendant by the deceased and his wife, and one Hubbard, at Whittemore's house earlier in the day, was a cause of sustained passion, and contended for a verdict of voluntary manslaughter.

TWO WOMEN HELD IN HAWKINS CASE

Alleged That Witnesses Will Swear Mrs. Britt Knows About the Girl's Death.

Asheville, N. C., March 17.—Two additional arrests in connection with the Myrtle Hawkins case were made here tonight when Mrs. Nora Britt and Mrs. Lizzie Shaft were arrested by two of the sheriff's deputies, the women being charged with having guilty knowledge of, or being active participants in the criminal operation which resulted in the death of Myrtle Hawkins last September. Mrs. Britt was lodged in the Buncombe county jail, while Mrs. Shaft was taken to Hendersonville jail pending a preliminary hearing Friday morning before a local magistrate.

The warrants for the two women, who have been under supicion since the finding of Myrtle Hawkins' body in Lake Osceola last September, were taken out on affidavits made by T. C. Brown, a local citizen, who was given data for the warrants from the sheriff's office. The county authorities say that they can produce witnesses who will swear that Mrs. Britt has repeatedly stated that she knew all about the Hawkins case, and other witnesses who will swear that Myrtle Hawkins was seen several times in the vicinity of Mrs. Shaft, who has for years conducted an institution for unlawful purposes. Still another witness will swear that Mrs. Britt had told him that she (Mrs. Britt) had been hired by Mrs. Shaft to perform the operation, and that she had gone to Hendersonville for that purpose.

Trial Package Sent Free to Prove It.

Thousands of people who hadn't really enjoyed a meal for years have given their stomach a new lease of life through the little wonder-workers, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They promptly put an end to flatulency, heartburn, dizziness, sick headache, dyspepsia, burning sensation, brash, fermentation and the other ills attendant upon a disordered stomach.

Here It's Noon, and this Man Hates to Think of Lunch. If He'd Only Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets He Would Always Be Happy at Mealtime.

That work will soon commence on grading Spring Street from Marietta Street to Carnegie Way?

This will bring into special prominence all the frontage on Carnegie Way down as far as Spring Street. We have 50x100, fronting Carnegie Way between Cone and Spring, adjoining Lyric Theater, at $450 a foot. This is a place that can be improved to advantage, and it looks like a fine investment.

STORAGE OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS

Remember that we are still in the furniture storage business. Our warehouses are comparatively new—one of them fire-proof and the other two slow-burning. Our insurance rate on the fire-proof is 65 cents; on the slow-burning 1 per cent. If you have any idea of storing your household goods, you are invited to inspect our warehouses before doing so. We feel that we will get your business.
